ANOTHER WAR CLOUD.

Russia and England Snarling at Each Other.

The Bone of Contention is the Privilege of Railway Construction in Manchuria.

LONDON, Oct. 25—The despatch from Shanghia yesterday afternoon announcing the departure of a fleet of fifteen Russian war ships from Vladivostock for Chemulpo and Fusan, Corea, and the Times despatch from Hong Kong announcing that Russia has obtained the right to anchor her fleet at Port Arthur, and construct railroads on the Liao-Tung peninsula, have caused intense excitement in official circles here as well as in those having commercial relations with the far east. These most important statements are looked upon generally as being a sudden reopening in an unexpected quarter of the far eastern question in its widest sense. The Shanghia despatch added that the Japanese fleet in Formosan waters had been recalled, that several British war ships had been ordered to Corea and that preparations for a struggle are visible on all sides.

The Hong Kong cable message to The Times, caused that paper to remark editorially today: "Russia can not possibly imagine that the great powers will view with indifference such a destruction of the balance of power, which is almost unparalelled in its audacity. China's option to purchase the railways is, at best, almost too cynical to find a place in any serious diplomatic transaction. Under the indicated formation Manchuria would practically become a Russian province, while Pekin would be within Russian grip. It is admitted here that the situation presented is so grave that, should the news prove true, it would make war, in which several nations will take part, more than probable. It should be added that there is every reason to believe that the story from Hong Kong is authentice, and all sources of information agree that the powers interested in the far east will find themselves confronted by a condition of seriousness which can not be over estimated."

The afternoon papers of this city all publish long articles agreeing that British intervention in the far east is necessary. The St. James Gazette says: "Even war with Russia would be less disastrous than to allow her, without a blow, to get such a grip upon China. She could throttle all the other powers and choke off their commerce. Unless Russia and China give the necessary assurances, it is a case for an ultimatum and perhaps the most serious step our diplomats has had since the Crimean war."

The impression is general in the official world, and it is re-echoed by the press, that neither America nor Germany can allow the Pacific to become a "Franco-Russian lake," as the Globe puts it, and it is generally thought the forces will be sufficiently strong to combine to resist Russian aggression.

The Pall Mall Gazette sums up the startling news from the far east with the statement that "Russia has annexed China," and, in the course of a long article on the subject, adds: "If this treaty is to stand, roll up the map of Asia."

In conclusion the Pall Mall Gazette urges the re-occupation of Port Hamilton by the British and the immediate strengthening of the British fleet in Chinese waters "lest Japan lose her fleet at the first blow." Since this important news was circulated the greatest activity has been displayed in the government offices here, particularly at the foreign office and at the admiralty and the coming and going of messengers was continuous throughout the morning and business hours of the afternoon. At the different clubs the "war scare" in the east is eagerly discussed, Venezula having almost completely dropped out of recollection in the alarm of the moment. Nobody seems to doubt the report that by the recently Franco-Russio China treaty Russia has obtained right, to which the most favored nation clause is not applicable, which may cause a great war. The correspondent of the Times at Hong Kong, who sent this sensational news, is described by his newspaper as being in "close relation with men who are able to penetrate beneath the surface of things," and it is therefore concluded that the news sent cannot be disregarded. Naturally, the public mind will be in a state of great unrest until some official assurance either denies or confirms the important announcement which would leave Great Britain with her hands full of trouble, including the dispute with Brazil regarding Trinidad, the serious misunderstanding with Venezulea on the subject of the boundary lines and the expedition now preparing to reduce the king of Ashanti to submission, the still serious state of affairs in Armenia, the unsettled state of the Egyptian question and now the most grave condition of affairs in the far east.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—The navy department is giving careful attention to the situation in Korea. The United States has no especial interest in the complication beyond the protection of American interests, and probably under no circumstances would do more than take precautions to this end by sending some of the ships now in Asiatic waters to the scene, in case official advices should confirm the reports of prospective trouble. No orders have yet been issued looking to the dispatch of any portion of the Asiatic fleet to Korean waters. The department has so far proceeded upon the theory that Admiral Carpenter, who is in command of the squadron, is thoroughly informed as to the situation and will take such steps as may appear advisable.

The United States has eight ships in Oriental waters, all of which could be sent to Korea if advisable. The presence of some of these at the principal Chinese ports has been considered necessary, in view of the anti missionary agitation, but the subsidence of excitement on this account again leaves the commander of the squadron free to use his fleet elsewhere if necessary. The Japanese legation does not construe the dispatches that a Russian fleet is moving to Korea as indicating that a conflict is imminent. The Russian harbor at Vladivostock will be ice bound next month and as it is the only Pacific harbor the Russians have, it is regarded as unlikely that they would make a naval demonstration when the harbor was closing.

ALAS, POOR TURK!

His Feelings Again Lacerated by Armenia.

As a Gentle Rebuke the "Police" Are Turned Losse and Sixty Armenians Are Slain.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Oct 25.—Fierce disturbances, accompanied by serious bloodshed, are reported to have taken place at Erzeingjan. Sixty Armenians are said to have been killed. The Turkish government has sent a circular note to the representatives of the powers and to its representatives abroad announcing that the outbreak was provoked by the Armenians.

ALPHO, Oct. 25—According to advices received here the Armenians of the district of Marash have attacked the inhabitants of four Turkish villages.

CALLED EACH OTHER LIARS.

Disgraceful Scene in a St. Louis Court —Change of Venue to Jail.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Oct. 25—The application for a change of venue in the case of Charles H. Jones vs. Joseph Pulitzer et al. occasioned an exciting scene in court. Judge Finkelburg, for the Pulitzer Publishing company, in his argument for a change of venue, contended that the case had reached Judge Wood's court irregularly. Col. James Lewis, attorney for Col. C. M. Jones, shouted: "That is false!"

"You're a liar," answered Judge Finkelburg.

Colonel Lewis jumped up from the table and landed a powerful blow on the judge's nose. The blood spurted and he staggered back. Blows were quickly exchanged, when friends stopped the belligerents.

Judge Woods censured both men for the indignity heaped upon the court, and ordered them to jail until each paid a fine of $100 for contempt.

HANGED FOR MURDER.

William Young Expiates His Horrible Crime.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 25—Wm. Young will be hanged at San Quintin today for murder. Following is the story of his crime: He murdered and robbed his employer, an aged Frenchman named Pierre Latestro, in Monteresy county. Young shot the old man with a shot gun and then robbed him of $85. Latestro, before he died, said Young shot him and the latter confessed the crime. Young came from Germany three years ago and was addicted to drink.

Rough Time for Burlesquers.

ELWOOD, Ind., Oct. 25—The "Paris Gaiety Girls," a burlesque theatrical company, composed of fourteen young ladies and two men, were treated to an exciting reception at the opera house last night. The manager ran away with the proceeds, $64, and the girls refused to go on with the play. A mob of 150 angry boys and men broke into the dressing rooms and put the company to flight. Two of the girls fainted and several of them are laid up as a result of their experience. The company went to pieces here.

Mourned as Dead But Still Alive.

LAPORTE, Ind., Oct. 25—William Myers, of Middlebury, Elkhart county, was committed to the insane asylum in 1875 He was then eighteen years of age. He escaped from the asylum ten years later. The body of a man answering his description was found a short time after his disappearance and the remains were interred as those of the insane man. Yesterday information was received from Lexington, Ky., that Myers had been taken into custody.

TERRIBLE COLLAPSE.

Factory Building Falls, Burrying the Workmen.

Nine Men More or Less Seriously Injured, and One So Badly He Cannot Live.

CLYDE, O., Oct. 25—Half of the east wall of the Elmore Manufacturing company's three-story factory collapsed at 7:30 this morning. All the floors were filled with workmen. More than a dozen are badly injured, and several are buried under the debris. Volunteers risked their lives to rescue the unfortunate. A young son of Foreman George Holloway was the first to be dug out. He is badly crushed and mangled, but may recover. The following is a list of the injured:

Charles Eberhardt, caught by falling wall, right arm and shoulder bruised and cut

Ed King, dug out from under fallen walls, head cut and body badly bruised, will recover.

William Snyder, found in the trench, leg broken at the ankle.

Roy Lemmon, head cut and bruised about the body.

William Hudson, right leg caught under falling timbers and broken in two places.

The work of removing the debris still continues, but it is thought all of the injured men have been rescued. Workmen commenced this morning to dig a trench along the east wall of the building for a water main and it was this which weakened the wall and caused it to collapse. All the men who were in the trench at the time were caught under the falling wall and their escape from instant death is miraculous, as the wall fell outward. As the wall fell outward, all three of the floors partially fell, throwing those who were on them to the ground. The portion of the wall which fell is about ninety feet in length and three stories high, the main offices were in this end of the building and consequently fewer wowkmen were there to be caught.

VENEZULEAN MATTERS.

The Communication of Secretary Olney.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25—Additional particulars have just been ascertained concerning the contents of Secretary Olney's note to Great Britian on the Venezulean matter. It is a communication of about 8,000 words, pointing out the applicability of the Monroe doctrine to the boundary dispute in Guina, and declaring the principle, which is the vital part of the note and the great principle for which the United States is now contending, namely, that no European power shall enlarge its territorial dominion on the American continent by means of force.

Ten or eleven weeks have now elapsed since this important communication was placed in the hands of the British government and no other response has been received than a formal acknowledgment thereof. The officials would very much like to have a reply before congress convenes, but they are by no means sanguine that their wishes will be complied with. In any case the probabilities are that the president will officially make known the contents of Secretary Olney's note in his annual message.

SCHOOLHOUSE QUARREL.

County Factions Move It From Place to Place.

KOKOMO, Ind., Oct. 26—The schoolhouse war has broken out again in this county. The Oakwood school has been moved so often that no one remembers how many times it has changed locations. It has had to get up and travel every time a new trustee was elected, and sometimes between elections it has been changed by mandamus proceedings. This week Trustee S. S. Richards was sued by the south county faction asking that a mandamus issue, compelling that official to move the schoolhouse a mile south The north enders will resist, taking the ground that the structure is properly situated, and that owing to its age, it will not stand another trip. The edifice, they say, is now on the verge of collapse.

Mackay's Dead Son.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 25—John W. Mackay will take a private car for New York this evening. He will be accompanied by John D. Rosenfield, and at the end of his journey will take charge of the dead body of his son, who was recently killed by a fall from his horse near Paris. Mrs. Mackay will accompany the remains across the Atlantic, and the surviving members of the family will be on the funeral train across the continent to this city, where the final interment will take place.

Death of Lieut. Gov. Millard.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Oct. 25—Lieut. Gov. Millard died at 11:35 last night, after an illness which has extended over a period of nine months. Since his return to Los Angeles Mr. Millard has gradually grown weaker, and last night his physicians announced that he was beyond human aid. At 9 o'clock Dr. Davidson, the attending physician, made his last call, and announced to the members of the family that the end was near. From that hour Mr. Millard was only conscious at intervals and five minutes before midnight he breathed his last. Mr. Millard will be buried in Los Angeles, but the date of the funeral has not yet been decided upon.

A STUBBORN FIRE

Starts in a Laboratory and Spreads Over a Block.

In the Fight of the Firemen two of Their Number Fall Twenty-Five Feet and Are Injured.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 25—Fire was discovered today in the laboratory of the Allen Pfeffer Chemical company, 617 North Main street, and, spreading both ways, soon involved the wool and tallow store house of M. Wolfhiem, No. 615; the Calvert-Vane Paint company, No. 619; the Front Rank Steel Plate Furnace company, No. 621, and the Henry McCabe & Co. Tobacco factory, No. 623. The aggregate losses on stock will amount to about $50,000, and on buildings to about $40 000. Two firemen, Ed Fryman and John Ditweiler, fell from a water tower, twenty-five feet, to the granite pavement and were severely injured.

NASHUA, N. H., Oct. 25.—By the explosion of combustible material in the candy manufacturing establishment of Charles Holman, in the Holman block, a large brick structure on Main street, was entirely destroyed by fire this morning. The loss will reach $40,000, but it is fully covered by insurance. The firm employes 100 hands.

Killed a Bald Eagle.

VALPARAISO, Ind., Oct. 25.—C. C. Ely, of this city, while returning from hunting last evening, saw a mammoth bald eagle flying near Sugers Park, just south of town, and after some difficulty succeeded in shooting it. The bird measured nine feet from tip to tip, and it is the first one seen in this county for years.

ARMENIAN HORROR

Graphically Depicted by One Who Was an Eye Witness.

CHICAGO, Oct. 25—A letter received today from Constantinople by a member of the Armenian national union of this city, from a young lady who was an eye witness of the recent riots, and members of whose family were among the victims, says: "On the Monday of the Holy Cross, immediately after the church service, some fifty young men of from fourteen to twenty years of age, proceeded to the Babi-Ali, (Sublime Porte,) to present a petition to the grand vizier. They had no evil intentions whatever. About half of this number had their revolvers and the other half had no weapons at all. But they were ill treated by the police, who beat and slapped the petitioners on their faces. One of the youngest fired at the major, who fell dead from the wound he received in his breast. Some of the major's men fell dead also. At this point the cavalry were summoned to the scene of the conflict. They patrolled the streets and riding up and down the streets they trampled many under the feet of their horses.

Those who escaped death this way were beaten to death with the swords of the soldiers. Hardly from ten to fifteen were left alive from this group. This was the first conflict. The Galata bridge was closed to all Christians and Armenians, only Mohammedians from Galata were allowed to come over to Stamboul. All were armed with swords. The Mohammedian residents helped the massacre by throwing domestic utensiles, namely kettles, lamps, plates, tongs and fire shovels, upon the Armenian young men in front of Turkish kruaks. In half an hour all the Softas, Moohagirs and Lazes were let loose with their wives from the Mohammedian mosques. Some had their bludgeons, others their knives, others stones. After making the streets clear of Armenian men and women, they attacked those khans in which Armenians were living.

They forced the doors open and killed every one they found. Few escaped death. Many Armenian porters that were found in the streets were butchered. The corps of the dead were carried in the night in dirt wagons and dumped into the sea. Out of 200 residents of Tehatal Khan, 150 were found killed, and the remaining fifty were wounded. No one is to be found from the laboring class. The houses across the street from the church of Karagomeroog were attacked, and many people killed. Miske, the brother of Rev. Khoren, of Gadig Pasha, his (Miska's) mother-in-law, and his wife were cruelly butchered. The body of Miska's pregnant wife was mutilated, and the body of the unborn child lay by her side.

The fourteen-year old daughter of Miska, horrified at the death of her parents, had cried that she was a Mahommedan, and she thus escaped death and torture. She has been taken away. Many are of this class. All the Armenians have great apprehensions for their lives. Some say, "we will be killed tonight," others, "tomorrow." In the Ksasshin Pasha quarters many were taken unawares and killed while at meal or asleep The weapons used by the Turks were stones and bludgeons. Most of this havoc at Stamboul was wrought by the irregulars, those who have been, but are not now, in active military service, and the criminals who have been convicted to hard labor in the imperial arsenal.

DRENCHED INTO SUBJECTION.

Prisoners in an Indiana Jail Punished for Starting Fires.

FRANKFORT, Ind., Oct. 25.—The prisoners in the county jail yesterday afternoon built a fire of their bed clothing. The sheriff's family gave the alarm and the fire was extinguished. An hour later the match was applied again, and this time the fire department was ordered out and under the direction of City Marshal Baird the jail was flooded. The prisoners begged for mercy, but the stream was not turned off until they were thoroughly drenched. This was their fourth offense, and the authorities considered their sport a trifle monotonous.

HORSE MEAT FACTORIES.

Proprietors of Establishments in Lake County Refuse to Move On.

HAMMOND, Ind., Oct. 24—The proprietors of the horse meat industries who a week ago promised Sheriff Hayes that they would move their establishments out of the state have thus far failed to keep their agreement. On the contrary, they still do business at the old stand and declare that they will make a fight if prosecutions are brought against them. They have employed Hon. John B. Peterson, of Crown Point, as their attorney to defend them in case suit is brought.

The authorities are determined to drive these institutions out of the county if there is any law under which it can be accomplished. Proceedings will be brought under a section of the statute which reads as follows:

"Who kills, for the purpose of sale, any sick, diseased, or injured animal, or who sells, or has in his possession with the intent to sell, the meat of any such sick or diseased or injured animal, shall be fined not more than $500 nor less than $50, to which may be added imprisonment in the county jail not more than six months"

It is thought that under this section the proprietors can be successfully prosecuted. The prosecuting attorney and health officers have promised the sheriff their assistance in his undertaking.

A day or two ago Sheriff Hayes paid a visit to the establishment operated by Amil Moerschke, just east of the city limits, and took with him Dr. Fred Bragington, a veterinary surgeon employed at the Hammond packing house by the government, and, though no official examination was made, Dr. Bragington said that there was no doubt that the horses killed there were diseased and unfit for meat.

POLICE NOTES.

Bold Attempt Made to Rob a Plumbing Shop.

William Patterson Didn't Arrive—Complaints Made to the Police—Only One Drunk in Court.

George Abdon, the plumber on Clinton street, found that somebody had cut a large hole through the brick wall between his shop and the alley The work had been done with a hammer and chisel and was an extremely bold and daring job. The hole was back of the safe in the shop and was almost large enough to admit a man's body, and it is supposed that some enterprising burglar was planning to go through the place and crack the safe.

The matter was reported to the police but no clue to the parties who did the work could be obtained.

HE DIDN'T COME.

Last night the police received a telegram from Caswell, O, to arrest William Patterson, who was en route to this city over the Findlay road. The telegram gave a description of Patterson, but failed to state the nature of the offense for which he was wanted. The officers maintained a watch for the man, but when the train arrived, he was not to be found, and the conductor had not seen anyone answering the description.

MUST BE A CORKER.

Complaint has been made to the police about the action of a boy named Clarence Allen, in South Wayne. Neighbors say he licks every other boy in the neighborhood, throws stones at people and swears at women who pass. It is simply one of those little neighborhood rackets.

MADE A COMPLAINT.

A neighbor woman made a complaint at the police station about the action of a lot of men who frequent a saloon on Chicago street. If reports are true their doings are entirely out of place.

POLICE COURT.

Frank Smith fell in with a lot of "good fellows" last night and the result was that Officer Sharp locked him up for being drunk. He was fined $10 50 in police court this morning.

Kennedy, one of the fellows who is charged with robbing Pickard's hardware store on Columbia street, during centennial week, was given a preliminary hearing in police court before Justice Huser this morning.

CAPTURED THE BOY.

A boy who had wandered away from the institute for feeble minded youths was reported to the police and this forenoon Officer Patton found the lad on Broadway, near No. 6 engine house. He was taken to the police station and later in the day was returned to the institute from which he escaped.

The officers named, with the exception of Mrs. Burris, were those serving during the last year and the report of the committee was unanimously adopted. Mrs. Hollopeter, who was the recording secretary last year, is sick at her home and had requested that some one else be selected for the position this year. The convention acceded to her request and adopted resolutions thanking her for past services and regret for her ill health.

Miss Cora Hood, of Ossian, read an article on "The Contingent Fund," Mrs. Hartman conducted the Missionary catechism and Mrs. Simpson read a leaflet on "Hindoo Widowhood." This closed the forenoon sessions and, after dinner, served in the social rooms of the church, the convention entered on its afternoon program, which was as follows:

Paper, "Missionary Ships," Miss Lizzie Mohler, Huntington.

The public meeting at the church last evening was well attended and the exercises of an interesting character. The devotional exercises were conducted by Mrs. J. H. Bickford, the scriptures read by Miss Carrie Schrader, a piano solo rendered by Miss Dessie Moore, of Huntington; the report of the recent missionary convention held at Eau Claire was given by Mrs. F. T. Simpson, and the addresss delivered by Miss Mary A. Danforth, who, for five years, was a missionary at Nagoya, Japan.

Miss Danforth is one of the most interesting lady speakers who has ever been in Fort Wayne, and she held her audience charmed listeners as she told of missionary life in Japan and related her experiences with the natives, weaving into her narrative so much of humor that she kept the audience in a constant state of laughter during the delivering of the first half of her discourse. After telling of her life and work among the Japanese she described the earthquakes which visited Nagoya during her residence there and the narrative of these disasters which caused the deaths of thousands of natives was thrilling indeed and, told in her wonderfully eloquent and dramatic manner, made the audience almost imagine that they were passing through the terrible experiences and sufferings that she endured during the five days and nights that they continued in that city.

She closed with a portrayal of the benefits resulting from missionary work in that country and a plea for the continuance of the efforts now being made by the ladies of this country for the rescue of the people of pagan lands from the darkness of heathendom.

Miss Danforth has wonderful abilities as a public speaker. To a fine presence she adds a clear and distinct voice, an excellent delivery, plain and eloquent language, and a connected train of thought, interspersed with humor, that enables her to hold her audiences interested throughout her entire discourse. She speaks again at the Berry street church tonight. She is now making a tour of the missionary districts in this country, and is received with popular favor wherever she goes.

NOT TODAY.

Mayor Oakley Will Not Announce His Appointments.

Nobody Knows Who Will be the New Members of the Board of Public Works.

The principal topic of conversation about the city building this morning was the disorganization of the board of public works by Mayor Oakley.

Everybody had something to say one way or another about the matter and everybody had a theory.

As stated in THE SENTINEL yesterday, Mr. Griffith was dismissed by Mayor Oakley, and if Mr. Hattersley had a suspicion or intimation that he would also receive a letter discharging him from the board, he forestalled the matter by sending in his resignation before the letter could reach him.

Nobody but the mayor seems to know who will be appointed to fill the vacancies. Mayor Oakley has given out no intimation as to who the new members of the board will be, and the people about the city hall are as much in the dark on the subject as are those outside.

Yesterday Mayor Oakley told THE SENTINEL he had already appointed one new member but declined to give his name. This morning when he was asked about the matter again, he replied: "The appointments will not be announced today, There will be no meeting of the board tonight."

Mr. DeVilbiss, the remaining member of the board, was in the board's office today with nothind to do but wait patiently for the reorganization to take place.

COMING WITH A RUSH.

There was a decided boom in the vehicle tax market at the city comptroller's office this morning as the result of the publication in THE SENTINEL last evening of the fact that Mayor Oakley intended to instruct the police force to enforce the law at once upon all vehicle owners who have not already taken out their license. Deputy Comptroller Evans was kept busy this forenoon issuing the licenses.

The complaint is drawn by Colerick & France, and avers that the plaintiff is a young girl unaccustomed to the ways of the world, and was improperly treated by the defendant, after he had gained her confidence.

Suit was also commenced against Buhr for bastardy before Justice France. It was settled by the defendant paying $200 to the plaintiff. The damage case in the higher court was settled by the plaintiff being paid $300.

The entertainment given last evening in the parish house of Trinity church was a success in every way. It was given under the auspices of St. Margaret's Guild and consisted of a series of tableaux illustrating some of C. D Gibson's well known pictures in "Life." Several piano solos were well rendered by Miss Edith Zollars.

A BABY

CONTRADICTS THE DOCTORS.

All Are Happy, Glad, and Well.

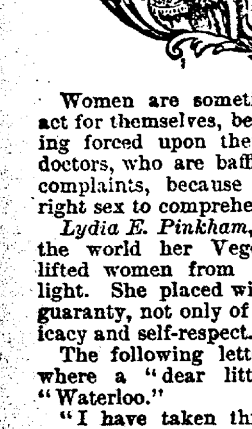
[SPECIAL TO OUR LADY READERS.]

The theories of physicians in regard to female complaints suffer a "Waterloo" very frequently, when sensible and thinking women take matters into their own hands.

Women are sometimes compelled to act for themselves, because of the suffering forced upon them by incompetent doctors, who are baffled by very simple complaints, because they are not the right sex to comprehend them.

Lydia E. Pinkham, when she gave to the world her Vegetable Compound, lifted women from the darkness into light. She placed within their reach a guaranty, not only of health, but of delicacy and self-respect.

The following letter is a little story where a "dear little boy" was the "Waterloo."



"I have taken three bottles of your Vegetable Compound, one package of Sanative Wash, one box of Liver Pills; and now I have a dear little babe four weeks old, and I am well. I have to thank you for this.

"I have spent $200.00 for doctors' bills without a cure. For my cure I only spent $5.00.

"I was once a victim of female troubles in their worst form. I have suffered untold agonies every month; had to stay in bed, and have poultices applied, and then could not stand the pain.

"My physician told me if I became pregnant I would die. I had bladder trouble, itching, backache, catarrh of the stomach, hysteria, and heart trouble, fainting spells and leucorrhœa. Can you wonder that I sing the praises of a medicine that has cured me of all these ills?" MRS. GEO. C. KIRCHNER, 351 Snediker Ave., Brooklyn, N.Y.

IT IS UNDERSTOOD that the Cuban war is costing Spain about $200,000 a day.

THE pope is said to be in very feeble health, and it is believed that he will not survive the winter.

THE Jewish population of New York city is now estimated at 300,000, or fully twice as great as fifteen years ago.

AT A political convention of Berkshire county, Massachusetts, a son presided and threatened to have his father ejected from the hall if he didn't come to order.

THE state health officers insist that it is necessary that all citizens using water from open wells shall clean out the wells, now that the water is very low in most of them and completely given out in others. If they are cleaned out now the fall rains will furnish good, pure water. It is the filth that accumulates in the bottom of wells as well as low water, that causes typhoid fever.

THREE converted African chiefs who recently visited London were asked about the effects of the liquor traffic. One replied: "I am glad you ask me about the drink, for I call it destruction. It is the destruction of my people. They lose their good standing and food and speech because of it. The white man's drink is a worse foe to my people than the weapons of Lobengula." Another said: "English liquor maddens; it destroys even our little children. All kinds of evil come out of the beer pot. I have put it down." African chiefs have more sense than many people in civilized lands. The liquor business is the crowning scandal of so-called Christian countries."

WHAT a pitiable spectacle is American politics when one or two political bosses can dictate to the whole party who shall or shall not be their candidate for president of the United States! It is said that Mr. Harrison cannot be a candidate because Quay, of Pennsylvania, and Platt, of New York, make his nomination impossible. Is ours a government of the people and for the people, or is it intended for the glory and emolument of a few bosses and schemers? Of all despicable things in national, state and city politics nothing is more contemptible than bossism.

Take a brain that is steeped in solution of knowledge, most varied and picturesque under the sun; then just add a pinch of the salt of the college, a flavor of wit and a soupcon of fun; for a relish, Bohemian sauce is a caper, and a mind that will stretch from Beersheba to Dan; in fancy or fact, when it comes to the 'paper,' or touches the heart of the newspaper man. To a memory that clutches the veriest trifle, and a hand that is tireless when work's to be done; add an eye that is quick as the flash of a rifle, and as keen as the eagle that flies in the sun. Take strength, and endurance, and loyal devotion, and add all the grit and courage you can to the heart that's as big and as deep as the ocean; a hundred to one on the newspaper man! With a brew of ideas, that seething and boiling, run out into molds that are models for men; add a ceaseless encounter with planning and toiling, for the wide world today that is ruled by the pen, add the sirup of friendship, the dew of affection, and the esprit de corps that gets down to hard pan, and paste in your hat the whole mortal concoction, as the regular stock of the newspaper man.

There Are Still Heroes.

Who says there is no pluck or manly courage or unselfishness left among the young men of this generation? Certainly no one who reads the story of Edward James Glave in The Century. His life was a very short one, covering less than 33 years, yet he managed to crowd into it brave, unselfish work, thrilling exploit and dazzling achievement enough to make his name live among men.

From his boyhood this English youth had followed with breathless interest every step of Stanley's way through Africa. He had read the story so closely that he knew every page of it, and his heart bounded within him to join Stanley in Africa. When he left school, he served a brief time in a counting room. But he was a born explorer, and his heart was far away in the jungle. He besieged the International African association with letters, gave them no rest till at last he received a commission to go to Africa. He burned with desire to do the hardest work, and Stanley gave him just what he wanted and chose.

His family and friends could ask no better epitaph to his memory than the words of his commander:

> His conscientiousness, his inflexible determination to do the most that can be done in a given period, the love with which he set about it and the absorbing interest it has for him make me, who know his worth, feel sorry that he cannot find the peculiar hard task for which he is so fitted and wherein he could be so happy. Many people have called me hard, but they are always those whose presence a field of work could best dispense with and whose nobility is too nice to be stained with toil. Glave is not one of these, but a man who relishes a task for its bigness and takes to it with a fierce joy.

It gives the story a melancholy interest to know that afterward the young hero found the big, hard task he craved and died just when he had accomplished it.

Sale of Farm Lands.

The St. Paul Pioneer Press chronicles the fact that the sales of farm lands in the northwest are larger than they have been in some years. A decided movement from the cities back to the farms is also noted in the northwest. We are informed, too, that many college graduates of this year intend to make scientific farming their business instead of studying law.

We are glad to know of all this, glad to be informed, too, of the increasing use of electricity in scientific farming, so that the agriculturist will be able to raise under glass all the fruits and vegetables of the tropics and take his ease at the same time. The use of machinery, chemistry and electricity, we are told, will make of the farmer's life one grand, sweet song.

'Tis well. Under a rightly organized system it would probably take not quite half the population of a country to raise food for the manufacturing and commercial part of the population, also for that increasing number of citizens, male and female, who toil not, neither spin. It is well for all mankind to have an abundance of everything good to eat and drink. But when, as is the case this autumn, the farmer has already raised so much that the price he gets will not pay for the work it has cost him, the freight rates, commission and other expenses being counted, what is there encouraging in the fact that more farms are being bought and more people are turning from the city life to agricultural life?

Henry Clay, a select councilman of Philadelphia, in advocating open court trials for policemen and firemen charged with violations of discipline struck a responsive chord in the American breast. Everybody agrees precisely with the following statement: "The overwhelming sentiment of the American people is against all secrecy in the proceedings of public officials or public bodies, and the people are entitled to full knowledge of all such proceedings and all things that pertain to public affairs."

The Philadelphia Ledger is quite right in declaring it is time the citizens of Pennsylvania took some note of William Penn's birthdays and made proper provision for celebrating them. Even the Pennsylvania school children seem to have mostly forgotten the great Quaker—the American who never tried to cheat Indians.

The kind of a government Japan is can be judged from the following from one of Colonel Cockerill's dispatches to The New York Herald in reference to the participation of Japanese in the murder of the queen of Korea: "I have personal assurance from the Japanese government that every guilty person will be punished."

SCHELL IN COURT.

Was Arraigned at Peru But His Hearing Postponed.

Ed Schell, who was arrested here Wednesday on the charge of swearing to an affidavit against Horace E. Barnard and signing it in the name of "Elmer E White," and taken to Peru, had a hearing yesterday at that place and the trial of his case postponed until Saturday. In speaking of the case, last evening's Peru Journal says:

"This morning Schell was brought up stairs and an effort was made to identify him as the man who was here as 'Elmer E White.', Mayor Zern, Prosecutor Tillett and others, who had seen the man who caused Barnard's arrest, made an effort to decide if Schell is the same man. The mayor and prosecutor seemed to have no doubt of his identity, but others who had seen the first fellow think they are not the same. Mayor Zern asked Schell to write the name 'Elmer E. White,' and it seemed to correspond with the same name which had been written on the affidavit against Barnard. Schell, of course, denies that he is the person who made affidavit as 'Elmer E White,' and says he can bring Fort Wayne witnesses to prove he was at home on September 5th when the affidavit was made here. He says he has a wife and mother in Fort Wayne, that Barnard is persecuting him in this manner through spite, and that it has already cost him $200 or more to try and get out of the trouble he has already been in. He has retained counsel and will have a preliminary trial Saturday on the charge of perjury which Mr. Barnard brought against him. The punishment for this offense is imprisonment in the penitentiary."

The day before his arrest in this city THE SENTINEL, and the other evening papers, on the authority of Schell, who produced letters to show it, published the statement that an offer had been made for a settlement of the case he purposed bringing against Rush county for damages for false imprisonment. The letter Schell showed while here appears to have been a forgery, as will be seen by the following telegram from Rushville published in the Gazette this morning:

"RUSHVILLE, Ind, Oct 24—The article in THE FORT WAYNE SENTINEL and other papers stating that Edward L. Schell, of that city, had brought suit against Rush county and Sheriff McFarlan for $10,000 damages for false imprisonment, and that a compromise was subsequently effected for $2 500, caused considerable surprise here. The article is false from beginning to end. Schell never filed a damage suit and no compromise was made. The startling part of the article, however, is the letter in the Fort Wayne paper, purporting to have been written by Cullen & Megee, attorneys of this city, regarding the withdrawal of the suit and compromising the same. John D. Megee pronounces the letter a fabrication, and states that the firm of Cullen & Megee had never been approached by E L. Schell on the subject of a damage suit."

STATE NEWS.

It is estimated that fully 50,000 bushels of apples are going to waste in Spencer county for want of shipping facilities.

The pumpkin crop of Perry township, Clay county, is being harvested and shipped to Terre Haute, where it sells at $2 per ton.

It is claimed that typhoid fever is epidemic in Frankfort and Clinton counties, and that fully 150 cases have been reported. In several communities the schools have closed, and teachers and pupils are ill. The cause is attributed to low water in the wells and the general drought.

Frank M. Peck, of Louisville, Ky., while in Anderson, received $550 in part payment of property, and he began drinking to access. He was finally led to an alley and knocked down, but the suspicions of the police were aroused in time to prevent robbery. One of his assailants was captured.

An old file of the Vincennes Sun was recently discovered containing a marriage notice of the Hon. W. R Thompson, the pioneer statesman and politician of Terre Haute, and Miss Harriet Eliza Gardner, of Columbus, Ohio. The wedding occurred on May 5, 1836, at which time Colonel Thompson was editor of the Bedford Spy, at Bedford, this state.

There was a surprise in the circuit court yesterday at Brazil when Mrs. Margaret Dalgarn, of Bowling Green, was carried in and testified that she was induced by her son to sign a deed which conveyed her individual one-third interest in the old homestead to him at a time when she did not know the nature of the signature he required. Mrs. Dalgarn is an invalid, and although her physician certified that she could not stand the ordeal, she insisted upon being taken to court, fourteen miles away, that she might testify.

Mrs. Almira M Stockton, daughter of John Makeerer, a wealthy resident of Jasper county, has obtained a divorce from her husband, failure to provide having been shown. The defendant is sixty years old, and formerly was a wealthy and influential citizen of Tippecanoe county. He was overtaken by financial misfortune, however. Mr. Stockton appeared in court, bringing with him an old satchel and a violin, but he refused to interpose any objections to the decree being granted, although the prosecuting attorney offered to appear in his behalf.

STANDS THE TEST.

Judge Cox Says the Nicholson Law is Constitutional.

Restaurants Which Have Saloons Attached Must Close When the Bars Are Closed.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Oct. 45—Judge Cox, of the police court, in a test case to-day, held the Nicholson law constitutional. The section in question was the one forbidding persons other than the saloonkeeper and his family to enter the saloon in prohibited hours The defendant was Frederick Brandt, who has a restaurant attached to his saloon. Under today's ruling restaurants to which bars are attached will have to close when the bars are shut up An appeal is probable. Judge Stubbs, from the same court, before retiring from office a month ago, held this section unconstitutional.

MRS. T. S. TAYLOR.

Mews of Her Death in Washington, D. C., on October 21st.

The following account of the death of Mrs. Thomas S. Taylor was published in the Washington Post, of October 22 Mrs. Taylor was formerly a resident of Fort Wayne and had many friends here:

"Mrs. Livonia Morse Taylor, wife of Thomas S Taylor, of the postoffice department, died at her home, 2306 L street northwest, yesterday. While her health seemed to be failing, it was not until a week ago Sunday that she was compelled to abandon her duties and accept the ministrations of others She failed rapidly, and both physicians and friends soon became convinced that her case was hopeless. Mrs. Taylor was the daughter of the late Emory and Emily L Morse, of Lima Lagrange county, Ind., at which place she was born on April 20, 1846 Her marriage to Mr. Taylor occurred December 3, 1863. From 1868 to 1873 they resided in Fort Wayne, Ind. Since 1873 her home has been in this city. Soon after arriving here she united with the First Presbyterian church, and was indefatigably devoted to church and charitable work. Services will be held at the residence, after which the remains will be taken to South Bend, Ind, for interment."

THE LAST SESSION

Of the Charity Conference Was Held Last Night—Excellent Papers Read.

The state conference of charities closed its session last night. Yesterday afternoon the delegates were entertained by Superintendent Johnson and wife, at the institute for feeble minded youths, who conducted them through the entire institution, showing the excellent arrangements and management. At 6 o'clock supper was served.

The evening meeting was held in the chapel of the institution. The subject for consideration was 'The Care of the Feeble Minded." E. P. Bicknell, secretary of the state board of charities, read a paper on the "Custodial Care of Adult Imbeciles." Mr. Bicknell's paper was excellent. It contained many valuable suggestions as to the proper manner in which the insane should be cared for.

Superintendent Johnson spoke on "The Colony Plan As it is and As It May Be." This was one of the very interesting addresses of the conference and called out much favorable comment upon its many good points.

Farewell addresses were made by local and visiting delegates After a vote of thanks had been passed for the entertainment of the delegates, the conference adjourned to meet in Richmond next year.

A SON'S CRIME.

Shoots His Father Four Times With a Pistol.

It Was a Family Row in Which the Boy Figured as a Peacemaker.

NEW YORK, Oct. 25—Fred Heard, aged twenty-one years, shot and probably fatally injured his father, David Heard, aged forty seven years, this morning at their home, No. 604 East Fourth street. The father and mother quarreled and the son defended his mother. His father turned on him and the son, drawing a revolver, shot his parent four times. The first shoot took effect over the right eye, second in right arm, third in left hand and fourth grazed left arm.

Decree Subject to Court Costs.

WABASH, Ind., Oct. 25.—Regarding the movement throughout the state to hedge about with a little more difficulty the obtaining of divorces, owing to the rapidly increasing number of applications for judicial separations, it is the practice of Judge Shively, of the Wabash circuit court, to withhold the decree until the attorneys, the court costs and the newspaper bills are all settled. No matter how strong the proof the divorce is not granted till the last dollar of expense is liquidated. As a result the number of irresponsible people applying for divorces is less in Wabash than in other counties, where Wabash applicants, who are impecunious, go to file their suits.

HE IS A LAY LEADER.

JAMES B. HOBBS A PILLAR OF METHODISM.

The Fortune Which He Created as a Member of the Chicago Board of Trade Being Used for Good Purposes.

AMONG the most most conspicuous lay leaders of the Methodist Episcopal church in the West is James B. Hobbs, who has just been elected to the coveted position of lay delegate from the Chicago conference to the general conference of the church at large. On the informal ballot his commanding popularity was attested by a vote which gave him but five less than a clear majority over all competitors. Mr. Hobbs is ranked among the leading capitalists of Chicago, and was for thirty years an influential member of the Chicago board of trade. He now holds his original membership ticket in that institution, for which he paid $10. It has been some years since he voluntarily retired from active business on the board and he now divides his time about equally between looking after his large investments and pushing the cause of Methodism in the West. Mr. Hobbs was born in Sebastis, Me., sixty-five years ago. His father died when he was 3 years of age, and for twelve years he was cared for in a precarious way by relatives and friends. By working as a farm hand in summer he contrived to spend a few terms at the Litchfield, Me., institute. In 1850 he learned the masons' trade, went to Chicago in 1856 and soon entered the produce commission business. He served a term as president of the Chicago board of trade and is now president of the Twenty-fourth ward branch of the Civic Federation of that city. In 1888 he was a candidate of the prohibition party for governor of Illinois, and he is now a member of the national central committee of that party. As a member of the national prohibition party executive committee from 1888 to 1892, he exerted a strong influence on the movements of his party. In 1891 he was sent to the ecumenical conference at Washington, D. C., and attended the general conference at Omaha, in 1892, as a member of the committee having in charge the location of the conference. Mr. Hobbs has been a constant and liberal contributor to the cause of Methodism, and donated $25,000 to the erection of the observatory connected with the Northwestern university. BOUTEILHE AND HIS BOMB.

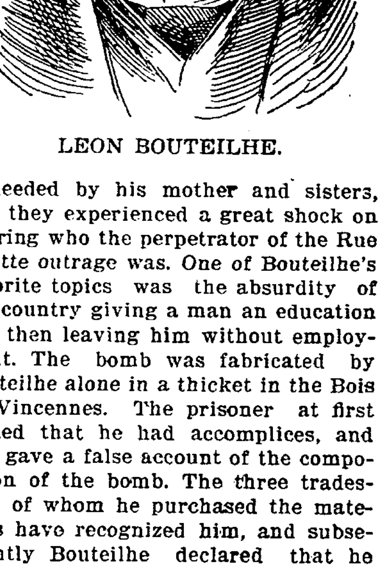
The Young Man Who Committed the Outrage at Rothschilds' Bank.

The man who threw the bomb at M. de Rothschild's bank in the Rue Lafitte, Paris, several weeks ago, is not an anarchist. He is one of those discontented individuals who consider that their talents ought to have raised them to high positions, and who neglect the humbler work they have before them. Marie Andre Victor Leon Bouteilhe—to give the criminal's name in full—is the son of one of the "officers" of the commune. He was educated at a Paris lycee, but he never distinguished himself, and at the age of 18 he enlisted in a regiment of Algerian tirailleurs, with whom he remained five years. On his return he found some employment, and in 1893 he was taken into the service of the Western Railway company and passed into several offices at Courbevoie Saint Cloud and Asnieres. It appears, however, that his conduct was anything but satisfactory, and after several reprimands from his superiors, Bouteilhe left his station. Being thus thrown out of employment and greatly in want of money he went to live at his mother's house in the Rue Montparnasse. Mme. Bouteilhe, who lives with her two daughters, is much respected by her friends and acquaintances, while her daughters are hard working girls, one being employed in a bank, the other in a telephone office. The extravagant talk of Bouteilhe went unheeded by his mother and sisters, and they experienced a great shock on hearing who the perpetrator of the Rue Lafitte outrage was. One of Bouteilhe's favorite topics was the absurdity of the country giving a man an education and then leaving him without employment. The bomb was fabricated by Bouteilhe alone in a thicket in the Bois de Vincennes. The prisoner at first hinted that he had accomplices, and also gave a false account of the composition of the bomb. The three tradesmen of whom he purchased the materials have recognized him, and subsequently Bouteilhe declared that he committed the deed as a protest against the rich, and without any assistance, but he denied that he sent the explosive letter. He was a great admirer of Vaillant and Emile Henry, and sometimes expressed himself in favor of their sort of "propaganda," and of a general strike. He was a conceited fellow, and on one occasion when advised to go into trade, he exclaimed, "Trade disgusts me." Bouteilhe detested work that soiled his hands, and on the same occasion he cried, "Was I made for those jobs?" His ambition was to enter one of the big Parisian stores as a clerk. Bouteilhe was sentenced to three years imprisonment.



LEON BOUTEILHE.

Not Half Bad Enough.

"I don't see why I am so neglected," said the habitual criminal, as he looked out between the bars of his cell.

"What's the matter?" asked the defaulter, who was walking up and down the jail corridor.

"No one ever sends me any flowers and no women come around to weep and make much of me," explained the habitual criminal.

"Oh, that's easily explained," said the defaulter.

"How?"

"The crime for which you were arrested was not horrible and fiendish enough to attract them."—Chicago Evening Post.

Just as a Favor.

"Will you grant me one little favor?" he asked humbly, as became a man who realized that he was addressing one who knows it all.

"Certainly," replied the other. "What is it?"

"Well, will you kindly permit me to know something about one or two subjects in which I am personally interested if I will concede all the knowledge of everything else to you?"

And after that there was a lull in the conversation that seemed to indicate that permission had been given.—Chicago Post.

A Misapprehension.

Muggins—Do you think smoking is injurious?

Not at Home.

The Buffalo Courier tells this story of two young ladies who are recent graduates of a seminary not named: They were touring in the east this summer and stopped at Salem, Mass., to visit the house formerly occupied by Nathaniel Hawthorne. They rang the bell at the old homestead and awaited a response. Soon a decrepit old lady came to the door and asked the young visitors what they wanted. "Is—ah—Mr. Hawthorne in?" stammeringly asked one.

Technical.

Tenant—You said the house was not cold, and we have nearly frozen to death ever since we moved into it.

Real Estate Agent—I had every reason to think I was telling the truth. I had never heard the house complain of feeling chilly. As to the people in it, of course I knew nothing. That is quite another matter, you know.—Boston Transcript.

Mr. O'Flaherty—An sure that's raisonable. It takes so much less for a man to live on afther he's dead.—Truth.

The Wabash is arranging to establish a through line of sleeping cars between St. Paul and Los Angeles.

The Wabash shops this week repaired and turned out engines 41, 57 and 373 and took in for repairs engines 333 and 337.

The electric works sent a 2,000-light, incandescent system, dynamo and all the necessary fixtures to St. Mary's, Ohio, today.

Nickel Plate Firemen Evans and W. Hurlbut are taking a vacation. The former will spend his at Stony Island with relatives.

The Wabash is, this week, receiving bids for the new hospital building it proposes to erect at Peru, Ind., which will cost $27,000.

George Hess and W. M. Laurence have secured positions in the machine department of the electric works under Foreman Knothe.

Robert Hartnett resumed work in the Pittsburg shops this morning, after an absence of three weeks. He was visiting relatives in Missouri.

H. T. Swegman is in Delphi, spending a few days with his mother and sister. Mr. Swegman is a clerk in Superintendent C. D. Law's office.

J. Smith and J. Schroyer have resumed their old positions in the east end shops, after working a while in the Pittsburg shops on Lafayette street.

Henry Sinegan, an employe of Rhinesmith & Simonson, is off duty on account of a sprained ankle, the result of stepping upon a round stone, which rolled under his foot.

Henry Roehm, of the electric works, has resumed his shop duties, the quarantine on himself and premises having been raised. There was diphtheria in the family of Mr. Roehm.

General Manager Hughart, Division Superintendent O'Rourke, and other officials of the Grand Rapids and Indiana, were out on an inspection tour this week. They were looking especially after depots that need repairs.

The Pullman dining cars, which the Pennsylvania took off the hands of the Pullman company, when they decided to operate their own dining cars, are being remodeled in the company's shops.

Superintendent Potter, of the Toledo division of the Pennsylvania lines, has asked the company to furnish one thousand new cars for service on that division, on which the business is rapidly increasing.

A heavy rain fall would be welcomed by the Nickel Plate officials and employes. There is a water famine on the third district of the line, Fort Wayne to Bellevue, and water is being hauled from this city.

The Pennsylvania railroad's coal shipments on lines west of Pittsburg for the year up to October 12, were, in round numbers, 5,000,000 tons in excess of the shipments for the corresponding period last year.

Owing to the financial necessities of Illinois, the Illinois Central company has advanced $250,000 to the state treasury, the sum being 6 per cent. of its gross earnings for six months. It was not due until December.

The yards of the Chicago division of the Big Four are now over five miles long, extending from 1,500 feet east of the eastern switches of the Belt road to 1,500 feet west of the extreme western switch at North Indianapolis.

The report has been revived that the Wabash is to build a link from a point on its Chicago division to Union City, Ind., where connection would be made with the Dayton and Union and the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton for Cincinnati. If built, the road will pass through Portland and Huntington.

When in Louisville, the other day, Col. Samuel Moody, assistant general passenger agent of the Pennsylvania lines, was presented by his friends with an onyx clock and a pair of very expensive vaces, accompanied with resolutions thanking him for his efforts to make so much of a success of the G. A. R. encampment at Louisville.

Col. R. G. Thompson, district passenger agent of the Wabash, this morning received notice of six special sales which his company will make of tickets to Atlanta. The dates of sale are October 26, November 5, 15 and 25 and December 5 and 6, good returning ten days after sale. The fare is $16.25 for the round trip. The regular fare is $19.10 one way.

Pennsylvania official, who was with the inspection party, in speaking of contemplated improvements on the Panhandle lines, said it would take $5,000,000 to put the Panhandle in the perfect condition aimed at, which means the doubling of the track of considerable portions of the road. A large per cent. of the mileage between Columbus and Pittsburg is now double track.

Thirty-five Fort Wayne people attended the Catholic church fair at Arcola last evening, the Pennsylvania company making them a special rate on account of their number. They came back on No. 38, which was a half-hour late, reaching home at 11 o'clock. The music at the fair was furnished by Prof. Henry Krull, assisted by the D. & M. Music club, and it was greatly injoyed by the audience.

Engine 235, class R, was turned out of the Pittsburg shops today and tomorrow the machinists will commence work upon the seventh and last of this class of engines to be built in the Fort Wayne shops this year. There is so much repair work on hand at present, being thirteen engines in the shops, that it will be late in November when another new engine is completed. Tomorrow engines 202, 199 and 902, the latter from the eastern division, will leave the shops thoroughly [illegible]

Interest in football is bein[g] [illegible]ed in shop circles and there will be several good games during the coming season. The Pittsburg shopmen will have a team, as usual, and will commence practicing as soon as A. J. Dawson, the leader, returns from Kentucky. The boys have received and accepted a challenge to play a game on Thanksgiving day with the Lima, Ohio, team, the only question of doubt being the place of meeting. It is hoped that the Lima team will come here, though there is nothing definite to say concerning the matter as yet.

THE DROUGHT A BENEFIT TO RAILWAYS.

While some complaints are heard about the trouble that the drought has occasioned along the lines of some of the railroads, it is, nevertheless, a fact that the dry weather has been of much benefit to all the roads which penetrate the Ohio river territory. No better evidence of this fact is needed than what may be obtained by a visit to some of the railway stations along the river where hundreds of cars of produce and other commodities usually shipped by water are now being loaded on the cars. The Ohio River railroad and the Wheeling division of the Panhandle, Baltimore and Ohio and Cleveland and Pittsburg are at present doing the largest business in their history, and it is mostly due to the fact that not a pound of freight can be shipped by water. At Pittsburg thousands of tons of freight that is usually sent down the river on boats is now hauled to the local freight stations and loaded on the cars.

A NEW DYSPEPSIA CURE.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, the new discovery for stomach troubles, is claimed to have cured over 6,000 people in the state of Michigan alone in 1894. These tablets have become so popular with physicians and people who have any form of indigestion that they have the endorsement of such physicians as Dr. Harlandson and Dr Jennison as being the safest, most reliable remedy for sour stomach, chronic dyspepsia, gas, bloating, palpitation, headache, constipation, and in all cases where the appetite is poor or the food imperfectly digested.

It is safe to say that Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will cure any kind of stomach trouble except cancer of the stomach. They are not a secret patent medicine but composed of vegetable and fruit essences, pure pepsin, Golden Seal, ginger and the digestive acids. They are pleasant to take, can be carried in the pocket, and they cure because they digest the food promptly before it has time to ferment and poison the blood.

Druggists everywhere sell Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, full sized packages, at 50 Cents. A book on Stomach diseases and thousands of testimonials sent free by addressing The Stuart Co., Marshall, Mich.

THE NEW COMMANDER.

A Short Biographic Sketch of Gen. Ivan Noble Walker.

Gen. Ivan Noble Walker, who was elected commander-in-chief of the Grand Army of the Republic at the National Encampment in Louisville, is a native of Indiana, having been born in Rush county, Feb. 3, 1839, and he has been a member of the G. A. R. since 1867. At the breaking out of the war Gen. Walker held an important civil office, but he resigned this to devote his services to the cause of the union. He raised a company of volunteers, which was incorporated into the 73d Indiana regiment, under his command. This body was sent to the front at once, and was engaged at Richmond, Perryville, and Stone River, where for gallant conduct Capt. Walker won the rank of major. Soon afterwards, in March, 1863, he was promoted to lieutenant colonel, and at the death of the colonel in May following he was placed in command of the regiment. In a daring raid which he led into the enemy's country Col. Walker was captured and shut up in Libby Prison, from which he escaped, however, through the tunnel made in February, 1864. Returning to his regiment, he rendered important service in the Army of the Cumberland by protecting the line of supplies between Stevenson and Decatur during the advance on Atlanta. For his services at the battle of Nashville he received the personal thanks of Gen. Thomas. After the close of the war, owing to ill health resulting from his sufferings while confined in Libby Prison, Gen. Walker took up his residence in Nashville, but he returned to Indianapolis in 1871, and has dwelt there ever since. He served as commander of the George A. Thomas Post, G. A. R., on the reorganization of the Department of Indiana, and was appointed assistant adjutant general in 1887. In 1891 he was chosen department commander, and during his four years of service as executive officer the department membership has increased more than six thousand. One of his most notable acts as a member of the veteran organization was his report as chairman of the pension committee to the National Encampment at Indianapolis, which was unanimously endorsed by the Encampment.

Senator Frye's Hobby.

Of all the statesmen who "went into the woods" last summer in search of fishing or shooting, Senator Frye seems to have had the finest camp. It was a five-room log cottage, built midway between two of the Rangley lakes, with a hospitable, big fireplace as its chief interior ornament. There, with fishing in the morning, entertaining in the afternoon, and whist in the evening, he found life wholly enjoyable. As an evidence of the senator's hospitality, it was no unusual sight to see twenty visitors' canoes moored at the landing near the camp.

MAX NORDAU.

A Few Words About a Notable Character of To-day.

Max Nordau, the author of the much-discussed book, "Degeneration," does not wish to be known as a specialist. In an interview recently he said the reason why he wrote "Degeneration" was that he was sick of always hearing himself spoken of as the author of "The Conventional Lies of Our Civilization." Now that he is being spoken of universally as the author of "Degeneration," he is writing a novel—his third—and will not write the philosophical work which he has in his head until he has disassociated himself from the specialty of philosophical writing. Dr. Nordau lives a very quiet, simple life with his mother and sister, whom he has entirely supported since he was 16 years old. He takes pleasure in nothing but work, and neither drinks, smokes, nor goes out into society. He speaks English, French, Italian, German and Hungarian with equal fluency, and can converse in Russian, Spanish and the Scandinavian languages. He is, moreover, an urbane and amiable man. Nordau is now about 46 years of age. He is of Jewish extraction, and originally studied to be a doctor. His hours of literary work are from 8:30 p. m. till midnight.

Not So Funny After All.

Two little fellows struck a mine of amusement one day last week and worked it for all it was worth.

Their plan was to stand at the street corner and when a pedestrian got in good range they called out excitedly, pointing to the victim's feet:

"Say! You dropped your footsteps!"

It was great fun—for the boys.

Presently an old lady approached the corner. She was fat and looked important. The boys hugged themselves in sheer delight. This time, to prolong the enjoyment, they began:

"Say, missus! 'Scuse us, but you dropped something!"

"Dear me! What? Such nice little boys, I'm sure." And she stopped and picked up a silver quarter lying directly before her and sailed on.—Chicago Times-Herald.

The Hon. J. B. Stoll, in the South Bend Times, pays this compliment to Mr. W. D. Page and his daughter, Miss Josie: "Just at a time when his facile pen was most in demand—during the progress of Fort Wayne's centennial celebration—the accomplished editor of the News of that place, Mr. William D. Page was taken down with fever, and confined to his bed until it was all over with that marvelously successful affair. This was naturally a great annoyance, a misfortune which only those can properly understand who know something about the perplexities of newspaper life, at such times. But Mr. Page is fortunate in having an advantage over most of his fellows in this, that he has an accomplished daughter, Miss Josie Page, who has made herself thoroughly familiar with the details of a successful newspaper business, and can edit, read proof, and manage affairs generally with a proficiency that atones largely for the enforced absence of even so accomplished a newspaper man as William D. Page. The value of such an adjunct is not to be computed in dollars and cents."

EXCITING RUNAWAY.

A Lumber Team Makes a Mad Dash on Calhoun and Jefferson Streets.

There was a runaway on Calhoun street yesterday afternoon that made no end of excitement and threatened to do great damage. The team belonged to a Columbia City lumber man.

Near the corner of Montgomery and Calhoun streets the horses started to run away. They ran into a carriage containing Nickel Plate Conductor Ross and his daughter, Mrs. Frank Purcell, and did it some damage. At Lewis street the driver jumped from the wagon and the team kept on running. They turned west on Jefferson street; took a wheel off Nieman's grocery delivery wagon and stopped when a wheel of their own wagon came off near Webster street. Nobody was hurt, but the wagon and harness were damaged.

What Do You Think of This? | $5 Lace Curtains for $1.75.

The other day a customer saw in our Clinton Street window a Lace Curtain, like two pairs she had at home, bought of another store in town, for which she paid $5 per pair.

The Curtains matched exactly—she was thunderstruck to be told our price was but $2 per pair for them.

We have 30 pairs of these Lace Curtains on hand and just for a run we have reduced the price, and will sell them for $1.75 per pair during the coming week.

Come and see them and inspect our new Curtain Department on the first floor.

ANOTHER WAR CLOUD.

Russia and England Snarling at Each Other.

LONDON, Oct. 25.—The despatch from Shanghia yesterday afternoon announcing the departure of a fleet of fifteen Russian war ships from Vladivostock for Chemulpo and Fusan, Corea, and the Times despatch from Hong Kong announcing that Russia has obtained the right to anchor her fleet at Port Arthur, and construct railroads on the Liao-Tung peninsula, have caused intense excitement in official circles here as well as in those having commercial relations with the far east. These most important statements are looked upon generally as being a sudden reopening in an unexpected quarter of the far eastern question in its widest sense. The Shanghia despatch added that the Japanese fleet in Formosan waters had been recalled, that several British war ships had been ordered to Corea and that preparations for a struggle are visible on all sides.

The Hong Kong cable message to The Times, caused that paper to remark editorially today: "Russia can not possibly imagine that the great powers will view with indifference such a destruction of the balance of power, which is almost unparalleled in its audacity. China's option to purchase the railways is, at best, almost too cynical to find a place in any serious diplomatic transaction. Under the indicated formation Manchuria would practically become a Russian province, while Pekin would be within Russian grip. It is admitted here that the situation presented is so grave that, should the news prove true, it would make war, in which several nations will take part, more than probable. It should be added that there is every reason to believe that the story from Hong Kong is authentic, and all sources of information agree that the powers interested in the far east will find themselves confronted by a condition of seriousness which can not be over estimated."

The afternoon papers of this city all publish long articles agreeing that British intervention in the far east is necessary. The St. James Gazette says: "Even war with Russia would be less disastrous than to allow her, without a blow, to get such a grip upon China. She could throttle all the other powers and choke off their commerce. Unless Russia and China give the necessary assurances, it is a case for an ultimatum and perhaps the most serious step our diplomats has had since the Crimean war."

The impression is general in the official world, and it is re-echoed by the press, that neither America nor Germany can allow the Pacific to become a "Franco-Russian lake," as the Globe puts it, and it is generally thought the forces will be sufficiently strong to combine to resist Russian aggression.

The Pall Mall Gazette sums up the startling news from the far east with the statement that "Russia has annexed China," and, in the course of a long article on the subject, adds: "If this treaty is to stand, roll up the map of Asia."

In conclusion the Pall Mall Gazette urges the re-occupation of Port Hamilton by the British and the immediate strengthening of the British fleet in Chinese waters "lest Japan lose her fleet at the first blow." Since this important news was circulated the greatest activity has been displayed in the government offices here, particularly at the foreign office and at the admiralty and the coming and going of messengers was continuous throughout the morning and business hours of the afternoon. At the different clubs the "war scare" in the east is eagerly discussed, Venezuela having almost completely dropped out of recollection in the alarm of the moment. Nobody seems to doubt the report that by the recently Franco-Russia China treaty Russia has obtained right, to which the most favored nation clause is not applicable, which may cause a great war. The correspondent of the Times at Hong Kong, who sent this sensational news, is described by his newspaper as being in "close relation with men who are able to penetrate beneath the surface of things," and it is therefore concluded that the news sent cannot be disregarded. Naturally, the public mind will be in a state of great unrest until some official assurance either denies or confirms the important announcement which would leave Great Britain with her hands full of trouble, including the dispute with Brazil regarding Trinidad, the serious misunderstanding with Venezuela on the subject of the boundary lines and the expedition now preparing to reduce the king of Ashanti to submission, the still serious state of affairs in Armenia, the unsettled state of the Egyptian question and now the most grave condition of affairs in the far east.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—The navy department is giving careful attention to the situation in Korea. The United States has no especial interest in the complication beyond the protection of American interests, and probably under no circumstances would do more than take precautions to this end by sending some of the ships now in Asiatic waters to the scene, in case official advices should confirm the reports of prospective trouble. No orders have yet been issued looking to the dispatch of any portion of the Asiatic fleet to Korean waters. The department has so far proceeded upon the theory that Admiral Carpenter, who is in command of the squadron, is thoroughly informed as to the situation and will take such steps as may appear advisable.

The United States has eight ships in Oriental waters, all of which could be sent to Korea if advisable. The presence of some of these at the principal Chinese ports has been considered necessary, in view of the anti missionary agitation, but the subsidence of excitement on this account again leaves the commander of the squadron free to use his fleet elsewhere if necessary. The Japanese legation does not construe the dispatches that a Russian fleet is moving to Korea as indicating that a conflict is imminent. The Russian harbor at Vladivostock will be ice bound next month, and as it is the only Pacific harbor the Russians have, it is regarded as unlikely that they would make a naval demonstration when the harbor was closing.

ALAS, POOR TURK!

His Feelings Again Lacerated by Armenia.

As a Gentle Rebuke the "Police" Are Turned Loose and Sixty Armenians Are Slain.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Oct 25.—Fierce disturbances, accompanied by serious bloodshed, are reported to have taken place at Ezzingjan. Sixty Armenians are said to have been killed. The Turkish government has sent a circular note to the representatives of the powers and to its representatives abroad announcing that the outbreak was provoked by the Armenians.

ALEPPO, Oct. 25.—According to advices received here the Armenians of the district of Marash have attacked the inhabitants of four Turkish villages.

CALLED EACH OTHER LIARS.

Disgraceful Scene in a St. Louis Court—Change of Venue to Jail.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Oct. 25.—The application for a change of venue in the case of Charles H. Jones vs Joseph Pulitzer et al. occasioned an exciting scene in court. Judge Finkelburg, for the Pulitzer Publishing company, in his argument for a change of venue, contended that the case had reached Judge Wood's court irregularly. Col. James Lewis, attorney for Col. C. M. Jones, shouted: "That is false!"

"You're a liar," answered Judge Finkelburg.

Colonel Lewis jumped up from the table and landed a powerful blow on the judge's nose. The blood spurted and he staggered back. Blows were quickly exchanged, when friends stopped the belligerents.

Judge Woods censured both men for the indignity heaped upon the court, and ordered them to jail until each paid a fine of $100 for contempt.

HANGED FOR MURDER.

William Young Expiates His Horrible Crime.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct 25.—Wm. Young will be hanged at San Quintin today for murder. Following is the story of his crime: He murdered and robbed his employer, an aged Frenchman named Pierre Latestro, in Monterey county. Young shot the old man with a shot gun and then robbed him of $85. Latestro, before he died, said Young shot him and the latter confessed the crime. Young came from Germany three years ago and was addicted to drink.

Rough Time for Burlesquers.

ELWOOD, Ind., Oct. 25.—The "Paris Gaiety Girls," a burlesque theatrical company, composed of fourteen young ladies and two men, were treated to an exciting reception at the opera house last night. The manager ran away with the proceeds, $64, and the girls refused to go on with the play. A mob of 150 angry boys and men broke into the dressing rooms and put the company to flight. Two of the girls fainted and several of them are laid up as a result of their experience. The company went to pieces here.

Mourned as Dead But Still Alive.

LAPORTE, Ind., Oct. 25.—William Myers, of Middlebury, Elkhart county, was committed to the insane asylum in 1875. He was then eighteen years of age. He escaped from the asylum ten years later. The body of a man answering his description was found a short time after his disappearance and the remains were interred as those of the insane man. Yesterday information was received from Lexington, Ky., that Myers had been taken into custody.

Believed in Faith Cure and Died.

ELWOOD, Ind., Oct. 25.—Mrs. William Wiggins, wife of a well known plate glass worker who came here from New Albany, died Thursday, after suffering fearfully for several days. She was a devout disciple of the faith cure, and refused to take medicine or in any way receive the attentions of a physician.

TERRIBLE COLLAPSE.

Factory Building Falls, Burying the Workmen.

Nine Men More or Less Seriously Injured, and One So Badly He Cannot Live.

CLYDE, O., Oct. 25.—Half of the east wall of the Elmore Manufacturing company's three-story factory collapsed at 7:30 this morning. All the floors were filled with workmen. More than a dozen are badly injured, and several are buried under the debris. Volunteers risked their lives to rescue the unfortunate. A young son of Foreman George Holloway was the first to be dug out. He is badly crushed and mangled, but may recover. The following is a list of the injured:

James Becker, one of the proprietors, head badly bruised and hips injured.

Charles Eberhardt, caught by falling wall, right arm and shoulder bruised and cut

Ed King, dug out from under fallen walls, head cut and body badly bruised, will recover.

William Snyder, found in the trench, leg broken at the ankle.

Roy Lemmon, head cut and bruised about the body.

William Hudson, right leg caught under falling timbers and broken in two places.

The work of removing the debris still continues, but it is thought all of the injured men have been rescued. Workmen commenced this morning to dig a trench along the east wall of the building for a water main and it was this which weakened the wall and caused it to collapse. All the men who were in the trench at the time were caught under the falling wall and their escape from instant death is miraculous, as the wall fell outward. As the wall fell outward, all three of the floors partially fell, throwing those who were on them to the ground. The portion of the wall which fell is about ninety feet in length and three stories high, the main offices were in this end of the building and consequently fewer workmen were there to be caught.

VENEZUELAN MATTERS.

The Communication of Secretary Olney.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—Additional particulars have just been ascertained concerning the contents of Secretary Olney's note to Great Britain on the Venezuelan matter. It is a communication of about 8,000 words, pointing out the applicability of the Monroe doctrine to the boundary dispute in Guina, and declaring the principle, which is the vital part of the note and the great principle for which the United States is now contending, namely, that no European power shall enlarge its territorial dominion on the American continent by means of force

Ten or eleven weeks have now elapsed since this important communication was placed in the hands of the British government and no other response has been received than a formal acknowledgment thereof. The officials would very much like to have a reply before congress convenes, but they are by no means sanguine that their wishes will be complied with. In any case the probabilities are that the president will officially make known the contents of Secretary Olney's note in his annual message.

SCHOOLHOUSE QUARREL.

County Factions Move It From Place to Place.

KOKOMO, Ind., Oct. 25.—The schoolhouse war has broken out again in this county. The Oakwood school has been moved so often that no one remembers how many times it has changed locations. It has had to get up and travel every time a new trustee was elected, and sometimes between elections it has been changed by mandamus proceedings. This week Trustee S. S. Richards was sued by the south county faction asking that a mandamus issue, compelling that official to move the schoolhouse a mile south. The north enders will resist, taking the ground that the structure is properly situated, and that owing to its age, it will not stand another trip. The edifice, they say, is now on the verge of collapse.

Mackay's Dead Son.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 25.—John W. Mackay will take a private car for New York this evening. He will be accompanied by John D. Rosenfield, and at the end of his journey will take charge of the dead body of his son, who was recently killed by a fall from his horse near Paris. Mrs. Mackay will accompany the remains across the Atlantic, and the surviving members of the family will be on the funeral train across the continent to this city, where the final interment will take place.

Death of Lieut. Gov. Millard.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Oct. 25.—Lieut. Gov. Millard died at 11:35 last night, after an illness which has extended over a period of nine months. Since his return to Los Angeles Mr. Millard has gradually grown weaker, and last night his physicians announced that he was beyond human aid. At 9 o'clock Dr. Davidson, the attending physician, made his last call, and announced to the members of the family that the end was near. From that hour Mr. Millard was only conscious at intervals and five minutes before midnight he breathed his last. Mr. Millard will be buried in Los Angeles, but the date of the funeral has not yet been decided upon.

In the Fight of the Firemen two of Their Number Fall Twenty-Five Feet and Are Injured.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 25.—Fire was discovered today in the laboratory of the Allen Pfeffer Chemical company, 617 North Main street, and, spreading both ways, soon involved the wool and tallow store house of M. Walthiem, No. 645; the Calvert-Vane Paint company, No. 619; the Front Rank Steel Plate Furnace company, No. 621, and the Henry McCabe & Co. Tobacco factory, No. 623. The aggregate losses on stock will amount to about $50,000, and on buildings to about $40,000. Two firemen, Ed Fryman and John Ditweiler, fell from a water tower, twenty-five feet, to the granite pavement and were severely injured.

NASHUA, N. H., Oct. 25.—By the explosion of combustible material in the candy manufacturing establishment of Charles Holman, in the Holman block, a large brick structure on Main street, was entirely destroyed by fire this morning. The loss will reach $40,000, but it is fully covered by insurance. The firm employes 100 hands.

Killed a Bald Eagle.

VALPARAISO, Ind., Oct. 25.—C. G. Ely, of this city, while returning from hunting last evening, saw a mammoth bald eagle flying near Sugars Park, just south of town, and after some difficulty succeeded in shooting it. The bird measured nine feet from tip to tip, and it is the first one seen in this county for years.

Accidentally Shot Himself.

NEW CASTLE, Ind., Oct. 25.—James Shroyer accidentally shot himself at noon with a revolver, the ball entering his hip and making a dangerous wound. He did not know the gun was loaded.

The Fort Wayne Grays will give a free Hallow'een entertainment and social. This entertainment will open the third annual series.

The reception given by Miss Hanker's dancing school at her room, over 10 and 12 West Wayne street, was a success. About twenty couples enjoyed the evening.

Col. B. A. Richardson, of Indianapolis, special agent for the Western Assurance company, was in the city today. He is a very prominent Knight of Pythias.

Anthony Wayne and Little Turtle, with their contemporaries, all in their native costumes, will give an excellent entertainment at the "Centennial Social" at Westminster church this evening. The chapel will be handsomely decorated.

Mr. Stewart, of Utica, N. Y., a brother of Mr. W. C. Stewart, of this city, will sing at the services of the Grace church next Sunday. In the evening, at the gospel song service, he will render a solo. He is a member of the glee club at his home, and is a very fine singer.

J. O. Goff won in two events at Alliance yesterday. In the one mile open he came in first. So far this season Goff has won twenty-four races out of a possible twenty-eight; among these eleven firsts, seven seconds, three thirds and three fourths. He won prizes amounting to $780 45. He rides a Rambler.

It will be a pleasure to the many friends of Rev. J. V. Stockton, who was formerly pastor of the Third Presbyterian church, in this city, to learn that he has recently been elected moderator of the Pennsylvania synod. Rev. Stockton was pastor of the Third church about ten years ago and was obliged to leave on account of losing his voice in a case of diphtheria. He went from here to Mercer, Pa.

At the Westminster church this evening will be presented the first centennial entertainment following our celebration, entitled the "Family Album;" the pictures which will be presented from life will represent those taken 100 years ago. Mad Anthony Wayne and Little Turtle will be presented true to life, together with many other old and familiar characters. A large album has been erected on the stage and, as the leaves are being turned, a full and exceedingly funny description will be given of each picture. The parlors have been tastefully decorated with centennial colors and presents a very pretty appearance.

ARMENIAN HORROR

CHICAGO, Oct. 25.—A letter received today from Constantinople by a member of the Armenian national union of this city, from a young lady who was an eye witness of the recent riots, and members of whose family were among the victims, says: "On the Monday of the Holy Cross, immediately after the church service, some fifty young men of from fourteen to twenty years of age, proceeded to the Babi-Ali, (Sublime Porte,) to present a petition to the grand vizier. They had no evil intentions whatever. About half of this number had their revolvers and the other half had no weapons at all. But they were ill treated by the police, who beat and slapped the petitioners on their faces. One of the youngest fired at the major, who fell dead from the wound he received in his breast. Some of the major's men fell dead also. At this point the cavalry were summoned to the scene of the conflict. They patrolled the streets and riding up and down the streets they trampled many under the feet of their horses.

Those who escaped death this way were beaten to death with the swords of the soldiers. Hardly from ten to fifteen were left alive from this group. This was the first conflict. The Galata bridge was closed to all Christians and Armenians, only Mohammedians from Galata were allowed to come over to Stamboul. All were armed with swords. The Mohammedian residents helped the massacre by throwing domestic utensils, namely kettles, lamps, plates, tongs and fire shovels, upon the Armenian young men in front of Turkish kraaks. In half an hour all the Softas, Mouhagirs and Lazes were let loose with their sives from the Mohammedian mosques. Some had their bludgeons, others their knives, others stones. After making the streets clear of Armenian men and women, they attacked those khans in which Armenians were living.

They forced the doors open and killed every one they found. Few escaped death. Many Armenian porters that were found in the streets were butchered. The corps of the dead were carried in the night in dirt wagons and dumped into the sea. Out of 200 residents of Tchatal Khan, 150 were found killed, and the remaining fifty were wounded. No one is to be found from the laboring class. The houses across the street from the church of Karagomerog were attacked, and many people killed. Miska, the brother of Rev. Khoren, of Gadig Pasha, his (Miska's) mother-in-law, and his wife were cruelly butchered. The body of Miska's pregnant wife was mutilated, and the body of the unborn child lay by her side.

The fourteen-year-old daughter of Miska, horrified at the death of her parents, had cried that she was a Mohammedan, and she thus escaped death and torture. She has been taken away. Many are of this class. All the Armenians have great apprehensions for their lives. Some say, "we will be killed tonight," others, "tomorrow." In the Kasshim Pasha quarters many were taken unawares and killed while at meal or asleep. The weapons used by the Turks were stones and bludgeons. Most of this havoc at Stamboul was wrought by the irregulars, those who have been, but are not now, in active military service, and the criminals who have been convicted to hard labor in the imperial arsenal.

DRENCHED INTO SUBJECTION.

Prisoners in an Indiana Jail Punished for Starting Fires.

FRANKFORT, Ind., Oct. 25.—The prisoners in the county jail yesterday afternoon built a fire of their bed clothing. The sheriff's family gave the alarm and the fire was extinguished. An hour later the match was applied again, and this time the fire department was ordered out and under the direction of City Marshal Baird the jail was flooded. The prisoners begged for mercy, but the stream was not turned off until they were thoroughly drenched. This was their fourth offense, and the authorities considered their sport a trifle monotonous.

HORSE MEAT FACTORIES.

Proprietors of Establishments in Lake County Refuse to Move On.

HAMMOND, Ind., Oct. 25.—The proprietors of the horse meat industries who a week ago promised Sheriff Hayes that they would move their establishments out of the state have thus far failed to keep their agreement. On the contrary, they still do business at the old stand and declare that they will make a fight if prosecutions are brought against them. They have employed Hon. John B. Peterson, of Crown Point, as their attorney to defend them in case suit is brought.

The authorities are determined to drive these institutions out of the county if there is any law under which it can be accomplished. Proceedings will be brought under a section of the statute which reads as follows:

"Who kills, for the purpose of sale, any sick, diseased, or injured animal, or who sells, or has in his possession with the intent to sell, the meat of any such sick or diseased or injured animal, shall be fined not more than $500 nor less than $50, to which may be added imprisonment in the county jail not more than six months."

It is thought that under this section the proprietors can be successfully prosecuted. The prosecuting attorney and health officers have promised the sheriff their assistance in his undertaking.

A day or two ago Sheriff Hayes paid a visit to the establishment operated by Amil Moerschke, just east of the city limits, and took with him Dr. Fred Bragington, a veterinary surgeon employed at the Hammond packing house by the government, and, though no official examination was made, Dr. Bragington said that there was no doubt that the horses killed there were diseased and unfit for meat.

POLICE NOTES.

Bold Attempt Made to Rob a Plumbing Shop.

George Abdon, the plumber on Clinton street, found that somebody had cut a large hole through the brick wall between his shop and the alley. The work had been done with a hammer and chisel and was an extremely bold and daring job. The hole was back of the safe in the shop and was almost large enough to admit a man's body, and it is supposed that some enterprising burglar was planning to go through the place and crack the safe.

The matter was reported to the police but no clue to the parties who did the work could be obtained.

HE DIDN'T COME.

Last night the police received a telegram from Caswell, O., to arrest William Patterson, who was en route to this city over the Findlay road. The telegram gave a description of Patterson, but failed to state the nature of the offense for which he was wanted. The officers maintained a watch for the man, but when the train arrived, he was not to be found, and the conductor had not seen anyone answering the description.

MUST BE A CORKER.

Complaint has been made to the police about the action of a boy named Clarence Allen, in South Wayne. Neighbors say he licks every other boy in the neighborhood, throws stones at people and swears at women who pass. It is simply one of those little neighborhood rackets.

MADE A COMPLAINT.

A neighbor woman made a complaint at the police station about the action of a lot of men who frequent a saloon on Chicago street. If reports are true their doings are entirely out of place.

POLICE COURT.

Frank Smith fell in with a lot of "good fellows" last night and the result was that Officer Sharp locked him up for being drunk. He was fined $10 50 in police court this morning.

Kennedy, one of the fellows who is charged with robbing Pickard's hardware store on Columbia street, during centennial week, was given a preliminary hearing in police court before Justice Huser this morning.

CAPTURED THE BOY.

A boy who had wandered away from the institute for feeble minded youths was reported to the police and this forenoon Officer Patton found the lad on Broadway, near No. 5 engine house. He was taken to the police station and later in the day was returned to the institute from which he escaped.

OFFICERS ELECTED

By the District Convention of Missionary Workers.

The Session of an Interesting Character—Brilliant Address Delivered by Miss Danforth.

The annual convention of the Woman's Foreign Missionary society of the M. E. church, Fort Wayne district, North Indiana conference, which began yesterday afternoon at the Berry Street M. E. church with an attendance of fifty delegates from this district, opened their second day's session this morning with a Bible reading, conducted by Mrs. J. J. Todd, of Bluffton.

The minutes of the proceedings of yesterday were then read by the secretary, after which the reports of the different auxiliaries throughout the district were made, all of which showed an encouraging condition of the missionary work in the different localities. The report of the bureau of exchange and district corresponding secretary was made by Miss Mollie Collins, of Huntington.

The report showed the following figures:

Number of auxiliaries, 13.

Number of members, 386

Subscribers to H. W. F., 91.

Subscribers to H. C. F., 113.

Subscribers to Quarterly, 9.

Number of branch reports, 73

Number of executive reports, 9.

Number of new life members, 1.

Number of deaths, 6.

Number of Christmas boxes, 1.

Amount sent branch treasurer, $782 05, a gain of $104 25

Total receipts from all sources, $854 50, a gain over last year of $67 24

Mrs. L. R. Hartman, the chairman of the committee on nomination of officers of the society for the ensuing year, made her report as follows:

President—Mrs. Margaret M. Bunyan, Huntington.

First Vice President—Mrs. J. J. Todd, Bluffton.

Second Vice President—Mrs. Elias Zimmerman, Auburn.

Third Vice President—Mrs. G. C. Norris, Ossian.

Recording Secretary—Mrs. W. P. Burris, Bluffton.

Corresponding Secretary—Miss Mollie Collins, Huntington.

Treasurer—Miss Carrie Smith, Fort Wayne.

Secretary of Bureau of Exchange—Mollie Collins, Huntington.

The officers named, with the exception of Mrs. Burris, were those serving during the last year and the report of the committee was unanimously adopted. Mrs. Hollopeter, who was the recording secretary last year, is sick at her home and had requested that some one else be selected for the position this year. The convention acceded to her request and adopted resolutions thanking her for past services and regret for her ill health.

Miss Cora Hood, of Ossian, read an article on "The Contingent Fund," Mrs. Hartman conducted the Missionary catechism and Mrs. Simpson read a leaflet on "Hindoo Widowhood." This closed the forenoon sessions and, after dinner, served in the social rooms of the church, the convention entered on its afternoon program, which was as follows:

Praise service, Mrs. W. C. Chaffee, Huntington.

Memorial service:

Mrs. Catherine McClain—Mrs. Wm. Bell, Huntington.

Miss Jessie O. Clark—Miss Carrie Smith, Berry street.

Japan as seen by Miss Mary A. Danforth.

Music, Violin Solo, Miss Lillian Schrader.

Paper, "Missionary Ships," Miss Lizzie Mohler, Huntington.

The public meeting at the church last evening was well attended and the exercises of an interesting character. The devotional exercises were conducted by Mrs. J. H. Bickford, the scriptures read by Miss Carrie Schrader, a piano solo rendered by Miss Dessie Moore, of Huntington; the report of the recent missionary convention held at Eau Claire was given by Mrs. F. T. Simpson, and the address delivered by Miss Mary A. Danforth, who, for five years, was a missionary at Nagoya, Japan.

Miss Danforth is one of the most interesting lady speakers who has ever been in Fort Wayne, and she held her audience charmed listeners as she told of missionary life in Japan and related her experiences with the natives, weaving into her narrative so much of humor that she kept the audience in a constant state of laughter during the delivering of the first half of her discourse. After telling of her life and work among the Japanese she described the earthquakes which visited Nagoya during her residence there and the narrative of these disasters which caused the deaths of thousands of natives was thrilling indeed and, told in her wonderfully eloquent and dramatic manner, made the audience almost imagine that they were passing through the terrible experiences and sufferings that she endured during the five days and nights that they continued in that city.

She closed with a portrayal of the benefits resulting from missionary work in that country and a plea for the continuance of the efforts now being made by the ladies of this country for the rescue of the people of pagan lands from the darkness of heathendom

Miss Danforth has wonderful abilities as a public speaker. To a fine presence she adds a clear and distinct voice, an excellent delivery, plain and eloquent language, and a connected train of thought, interspersed with humor, that enables her to hold her audiences interested throughout her entire discourse. She speaks again at the Berry street church tonight. She is now making a tour of the missionary districts in this country, and is received with popular favor wherever she goes.

NOT TODAY.

Mayor Oakley Will Not Announce His Appointments.

Nobody Knows Who Will be the New Members of the Board of Public Works.

The principal topic of conversation about the city building this morning was the disorganization of the board of public works by Mayor Oakley.

Everybody had something to say one way or another about the matter and everybody had a theory.

As stated in THE SENTINEL yesterday, Mr. Griffith was dismissed by Mayor Oakley, and if Mr. Hattersley had a suspicion or intimation that he would also receive a letter discharging him from the board, he forestalled the matter by sending in his resignation before the letter could reach him.

Nobody but the mayor seems to know who will be appointed to fill the vacancies. Mayor Oakley has given out no intimation as to who the new members of the board will be, and the people about the city hall are as much in the dark on the subject as are those outside.

Yesterday Mayor Oakley told THE SENTINEL he had already appointed one new member but declined to give his name. This morning when he was asked about the matter again, he replied: "The appointments will not be announced today. There will be no meeting of the board tonight."

Mr. DeVilbiss, the remaining member of the board, was in the board's office today with nothing to do but wait patiently for the reorganization to take place.

COMING WITH A RUSH.

There was a decided boom in the vehicle tax market at the city comptroller's office this morning as the result of the publication in THE SENTINEL last evening of the fact that Mayor Oakley intended to instruct the police force to enforce the law at once upon all vehicle owners who have not already taken out their license. Deputy Comptroller Evans was kept busy this forenoon issuing the licenses.

THE COURTS.

News as Gathered From City Court Dockets.

Damage Suits Commenced and Settled in the Circuit and Justice Courts.

Judge O'Rourke gave Bertha Lancing a divorce from Harry Lancing.

The case of Catherine Miller against Hugh Lane is on trial before a jury and Judge Dawson.

All the judgments against the Taylor university owned by Charles Bash were today assigned to R. T. McDonald.

In the case of Ferdinand Mallard vs. Mary Jane Elwell, Judge Dawson yesterday granted the plaintiff a decree to quiet title.

In the will of Caroline Blum, which was filed for probate yesterday, she bequeaths all her personal property to her sister, Dorathy Albrecht.

In the case of the Findlay, Fort Wayne and Western railroad vs. Catherine Schele, et. al., the plaintiff was yesterday awarded judgment for $500.

John L. Horn has brought foreclosure proceedings on a chattel mortgage against Wm. R. Carey; T. W. Wilson, attorney for the plaintiff.

Wilhelmina Behrman, by her next friend, has commenced action in the circuit court for damages in the sum of $5,000 against Frank Buhr. The complaint is drawn by Colerick & France, and avers that the plaintiff is a young girl unaccustomed to the ways of the world, and was improperly treated by the defendant, after he had gained her confidence.

Suit was also commenced against Buhr for bastardy before Justice France. It was settled by the defendant paying $300 to the plaintiff. The damage case in the higher court was settled by the plaintiff being paid $300.

The entertainment given last evening in the parish house of Trinity church was a success in every way. It was given under the auspices of St. Margaret's Guild and consisted of a series of tableaux illustrating some of C. D. Gibson's well known pictures in "Life." Several piano solos were well rendered by Miss Edith Zollars.

A BABY CONTRADICTS THE DOCTORS.

All Are Happy, Glad, and Well.

The theories of physicians in regard to female complaints suffer a "Waterloo" very frequently, when sensible and thinking women take matters into their own hands.

Women are sometimes compelled to act for themselves, because of the suffering forced upon them by incompetent doctors, who are baffled by very simple complaints, because they are not the right sex to comprehend them.

Lydia E. Pinkham, when she gave to the world her Vegetable Compound, lifted women from the darkness into light. She placed within their reach a guaranty, not only of health, but of delicacy and self-respect.

The following letter is a little story where a "dear little boy" was the "Waterloo."

"I have taken three bottles of your Vegetable Compound, one package of Sanative Wash, one box of Liver Pills; and now I have a dear little babe four weeks old, and I am well. I have to thank you for this.

"I have spent $200.00 for doctors' bills without a cure. For my cure I only spent $5.00.

"I was once a victim of female trouble in their worst form. I have suffered untold agonies every month; had to stay in bed, and have poultices applied, and then could not stand the pain.

"My physician told me if I became pregnant I would die. I had bladder trouble, itching, backache, catarrh of the stomach, hysteria, and heart trouble, fainting spells and leucorrhœa. Can you wonder that I sing the praises of a medicine that has cured me of all these ills?" Mrs. Geo. C. Kirchner, 351 Snediker Ave., Brooklyn, N.Y.

It is understood that the Cuban war is costing Spain about $200,000 a day.

The pope is said to be in very feeble health, and it is believed that he will not survive the winter.

At a political convention of Berkshire county, Massachusetts, a son presided and threatened to have his father ejected from the hall if he didn't come to order.

The state health officers insist that it is necessary that all citizens using water from open wells shall clean out the wells, now that the water is very low in most of them and completely given out in others. If they are cleaned out now the fall rains will furnish good, pure water. It is the filth that accumulates in the bottom of wells as well as low water, that causes typhoid fever.

Three converted African chiefs who recently visited London were asked about the effects of the liquor traffic. One replied: "I am glad you ask me about the thing, for I call it destruction. It is the destruction of my people. They lose their good standing and food and speech because of it. The white man's drink is a worse foe to my people than the weapons of Lobengula." Another said: "English liquor maddens; it destroys even our little children. All kinds of evil come out of the beer pot. I have put it down." African chiefs have more sense than many people in civilized lands. The liquor business is the crowning scandal of so called Christian countries."

What a pitiable spectacle is American politics when one or two political bosses can dictate to the whole party who shall or shall not be their candidate for president of the United States! It is said that Mr. Harrison cannot be a candidate because Quay, of Pennsylvania, and Platt, of New York, make his nomination impossible. Is ours a government of the people and for the people, or is it intended for the glory and emolument of a few bosses and schemers? Of all despicable things in national, state and city politics nothing is more contemptible than bossism.

Take a brain that is steeped in solution of knowledge, most varied and picturesque under the sun; then just add a pinch of the salt of the college, a flavor of wit and a soupçon of fun; for a relish, Bohemian sauce is a caper, and a mind that will stretch from Beersheba to Dan; in fancy or fact, when it comes to the 'paper,' or touches the heart of the newspaper man. To a memory that clutches the veriest trifle, and a hand that is tireless when work's to be done; add an eye that is quick as the flash of a rifle, and as keen as the eagle that flies in the sun. Take strength, and endurance, and loyal devotion, and add all the grit and courage you can to the heart that's as big and as deep as the ocean; a hundred to one on the newspaper man! With a brow of ideas, that seething and boiling, run out into molds that are models for men; add a ceaseless encounter with planning and toiling for the wide world today that is ruled by the pen, add the sirup of friendship, the dew of affection, and the esprit de corps that gets down to hard pan, and paste in your hat the whole mortal concoction, as the regular stock of the newspaper man.

There Are Still Heroes.

Who says there is no pluck or manly courage or unselfishness left among the young men of this generation? Certainly no one who reads the story of Edward James Glave in The Century. His life was a very short one, covering less than 33 years, yet he managed to crowd into it brave, unselfish work, thrilling exploit and dazzling achievement enough to make his name live among men.

From his boyhood this English youth had followed with breathless interest every step of Stanley's way through Africa. He had read the story so closely that he knew every page of it, and his heart bounded within him to join Stanley in Africa. When he left school, he served a brief time in a counting room. But he was a born explorer, and his heart was far away in the jungle. He besieged the International African association with letters, gave them no rest till at last he received a commission to go to Africa. He burned with desire to do the hardest work, and Stanley gave him just what he wanted and chose.

> His conscientiousness, his inflexible determination to do the most that can be done in a given period, the love with which he set about it and the absorbing interest it has for him make me, who know his worth, feel sorry that he cannot find the peculiar hard task for which he is so fitted and which he could be so happy. Many people have called me hard, but they are always those whose presence a field of work could best dispense with, and whose nobility is too nice to be stained with toil. There is not one of these, but a man who relishes a task for its bigness and takes to it with a fierce joy.

It gives the story a melancholy interest to know that afterward the young hero found the big, hard task he craved and died just when he had accomplished it.

Sale of Farm Lands.

The St. Paul Pioneer Press chronicles the fact that the sales of farm lands in the northwest are larger than they have been in some years. A decided movement from the cities back to the farms is also noted in the northwest. We are informed, too, that many college graduates of this year intend to make scientific farming their business instead of studying law.

We are glad to know of all this, glad to be informed, too, of the increasing use of electricity in scientific farming, so that the agriculturist will be able to raise under glass all the fruits and vegetables of the tropics and take his ease at the same time. The use of machinery, chemistry and electricity, we are told, will make of the farmer's life one grand, sweet song.

'Tis well. Under a rightly organized system it would probably take not quite half the population of a country to raise food for the manufacturing and commercial part of the population, also for that increasing number of citizens, male and female, who toil not, neither spin. It is well for all mankind to have an abundance of everything good to eat and drink. But when, as is the case this autumn, the farmer has already raised so much that the price he gets will not pay for the work it has cost him, the freight rates, commission and other expenses being counted, what is there encouraging in the fact that more farms are being bought and more people are turning from the city life to agricultural life?

Henry Clay, a select councilman of Philadelphia, in advocating open court trials for policemen and firemen charged with violations of discipline struck a responsive chord in the American breast. Everybody agrees precisely with the following statement: "The overwhelming sentiment of the American people is against all secrecy in the proceedings of public officials or public bodies, and the people are entitled to full knowledge of all such proceedings and all things that pertain to public affairs."

The Philadelphia Ledger is quite right in declaring it is time the citizens of Pennsylvania took some note of William Penn's birthdays and made proper provision for celebrating them. Even the Pennsylvania school children seem to have mostly forgotten the great Quaker—the American who never tried to cheat Indians.

The kind of a government Japan is can be judged from the following from one of Colonel Cockerill's dispatches to The New York Herald in reference to the participation of Japanese in the murder of the queen of Korea: "I have personal assurance from the Japanese government that every guilty person will be punished."

SCHELL IN COURT.

Was Arraigned at Peru But His Hearing Postponed.

Ed Schell, who was arrested here Wednesday on the charge of swearing to an affidavit against Horace E. Barnard and signing it in the name of "Elmer E. White," and taken to Peru, had a hearing yesterday at that place and the trial of his case postponed until Saturday. In speaking of the case, last evening's Peru Journal says:

"This morning Schell was brought up stairs and an effort was made to identify him as the man who was here as 'Elmer E. White,'; Mayor Zern, Prosecutor Tillett and others, who had seen the man who caused Barnard's arrest, made an effort to decide if Schell is the same man. The mayor and prosecutor seemed to have no doubt of his identity, but others who had seen the first fellow think they are not the same. Mayor Zern asked Schell to write the name 'Elmer E. White,' and it seemed to correspond with the same name which had been written on the affidavit against Barnard. Schell, of course, denies that he is the person who made affidavit as 'Elmer E. White,' and says he can bring Fort Wayne witnesses to prove he was at home on September 5th when the affidavit was made here. He says he has a wife and mother in Fort Wayne, that Barnard is persecuting him in this manner through spite, and that it has already cost him $200 or more to try and get out of the trouble he has already been in. He has retained counsel and will have a preliminary trial Saturday on the charge of perjury which Mr. Barnard brought against him. The punishment for this offense is imprisonment in the penitentiary."

The day before his arrest in this city The Sentinel, and the other evening papers, on the authority of Schell, who produced letters to show it, published the statement that an offer had been made for a settlement of the case he purposed bringing against Rush county for damages for false imprisonment. The letter Schell showed while here appears to have been a forgery, as will be seen by the following telegram from Rushville published in the Gazette this morning:

"Rushville, Ind., Oct. 24.—The article in The Fort Wayne Sentinel and other papers stating that Edward L. Schell, of that city, had brought suit against Rush county and Sheriff McFarlan for $10,000 damages for false imprisonment, and that a compromise was subsequently effected for $2,500, caused considerable surprise here. The article is false from beginning to end. Schell never filed a damage suit and no compromise was made. The startling part of the article, however, is the letter in the Fort Wayne paper, purporting to have been written by Cullen & Megee, attorneys of this city, regarding the withdrawal of the suit and compromising the same. John D. Megee pronounces the letter a fabrication, and states that the firm of Cullen & Megee had never been approached by E. L. Schell on the subject of a damage suit."

STATE NEWS.

It is estimated that fully 60,000 bushels of apples are going to waste in Spencer county for want of shipping facilities.

The pumpkin crop of Perry township, Clay county, is being harvested and shipped to Terre Haute, where it sells at $2 per ton.

It is claimed that typhoid fever is epidemic in Frankfort and Clinton counties, and that fully 150 cases have been reported. In several communities the schools have closed, and teachers and pupils are ill. The cause is attributed to low water in the wells and the general drought.

Frank M. Peck, of Louisville, Ky., while in Anderson, received $550 in part payment of property, and he began drinking to access. He was finally led to an alley and knocked down, but the suspicions of the police were aroused in time to prevent robbery. One of his assailants was captured.

An old file of the Vincennes Sun was recently discovered containing a marriage notice of the Hon. W. R. Thompson, the pioneer statesman and politician of Terre Haute, and Miss Harriet Eliza Gardner, of Columbus, Ohio. The wedding occurred on May 5, 1836, at which time Colonel Thompson was editor of the Bedford Spy, at Bedford, this state.

There was a surprise in the circuit court yesterday at Brazil when Mrs. Margaret Dalgarn, of Bowling Green, was carried in and testified that she was induced by her son to sign a deed which conveyed her individual one-third interest in the old homestead to him at a time when she did not know the nature of the signature he required. Mrs. Dalgarn is an invalid, and although her physician certified that she could not stand the ordeal, she insisted upon being taken to court, fourteen miles away, that she might testify.

Mrs. Almira M. Stockton, daughter of John Makeever, a wealthy resident of Jasper county, has obtained a divorce from her husband, failure to provide having been shown. The defendant is sixty years old, and formerly was a wealthy and influential citizen of Tippecanoe county. He was overtaken by financial misfortune, however. Mr. Stockton appeared in court, bringing with him an old satchel and a violin, but he refused to interpose any objections to the decree being granted, although the prosecuting attorney offered to appear in his behalf.

Judge Cox Says the Nicholson Law is Constitutional.

Restaurants Which Have Saloons Attached Must Close When the Bars Are Closed.

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 25.—Judge Cox, of the police court in a test case to day, held the Nicholson law constitutional. The section in question was the one forbidding persons other than the saloonkeeper and his family to enter the saloon in prohibited hours. The defendant was Frederick Brandt, who has a restaurant attached to his saloon. Under today's ruling restaurants to which bars are attached will have to close when the bars are shut up. An appeal is probable. Judge Stubbs, from the same court before retiring from office a month ago, held this section unconstitutional.

MRS. T. S. TAYLOR.

News of Her Death in Washington, D. C., on October 21st.

The following account of the death of Mrs. Thomas S. Taylor was published in the Washington Post, of October 22. Mrs. Taylor was formerly a resident of Fort Wayne and had many friends here:

"Mrs. Lisonia Morse Taylor, wife of Thomas S. Taylor, of the postoffice department, died at her home, 2306 I. street northwest, yesterday. While her health seemed to be failing, it was not until a week ago Sunday that she was compelled to abandon her duties and accept the ministrations of others. She failed rapidly, and both physicians and friends soon became convinced that her case was hopeless. Mrs. Taylor was the daughter of the late Emory and Emily L. Morse, of Lima, Lagrange county, Ind., at which place she was born on April 20, 1845. Her marriage to Mr. Taylor occurred December 2, 1863. From 1868 to 1873 they resided in Fort Wayne, Ind. Since 1873 her home has been in this city. Soon after arriving here she united with the First Presbyterian church, and was indefatigably devoted to church and charitable work. Services will be held at the residence, after which the remains will be taken to South Bend, Ind., for interment."

Of the Charity Conference Was Held Last Night—Excellent Papers Read.

The state conference of charities closed its session last night. Yesterday afternoon the delegates were entertained by Superintendent Johnson and wife, at the institute for feeble minded youths, who conducted them through the entire institution, showing the excellent arrangements and management. At 6 o'clock supper was served.

The evening meeting was held in the chapel of the institution. The subject for consideration was 'The Care of the Feeble Minded." E. P. Bicknell, secretary of the state board of charities, read a paper on the "Custodial Care of Adult Imbeciles." Mr. Bicknell's paper was excellent. It contained many valuable suggestions as to the proper manner in which the insane should be cared for.

Superintendent Johnson spoke on "The Colony Plan As it is and As It May Be." This was one of the very interesting addresses of the conference and called out much favorable comment upon its many good points.

Farewell addresses were made by local and visiting delegates. After a vote of thanks had been passed for the entertainment of the delegates, the conference adjourned to meet in Richmond next year.

FATAL WRECK.

Two Baltimore and Potomac Trains Collide.

One Man Killed, One Fatally Injured and Three Seriously Crushed in the Ruins.

Baltimore, Md., Oct. 25.—A collision occurred today on the Baltimore and Potomac railroad at Bowie's station, midway between Baltimore and Washington, in which one person was killed and one fatally hurt, and three received serious injuries.

F. A. Ellis, a drover of Fort Springs, W. Va., was instantly killed.

THE INJURED.

A. E. Johnson, drover, of Fort Springs W. Va., head burned and cut.

W. W. McClelland, drover, of Hughert, W. Va., injured in the breast.

J. M. Skeggs, drover, of Hughert West Virginia, slightly injured in the head.

Isaac Hearn, a signal man who lived in Baltimore, was badly crushed and died a few hours later.

A SON'S CRIME.

Shoots His Father Four Times With a Pistol.

It Was a Family Row in Which the Boy Figured as a Peacemaker.

New York, Oct. 25.—Fred Heard, aged twenty-one years, shot and probably fatally injured his father, David Heard, aged forty seven years, this morning at their home, No. 604 East Fourth street. The father and mother quarreled and the son defended his mother. His father turned on him and the son, drawing a revolver, shot his parent four times. The first shoot took effect over the right eye, second in right arm, third in left hand and fourth grazed left arm.

Divorce Subject to Court Costs.

Wabash, Ind., Oct. 25.—Regarding the movement throughout the state to hedge about with a little more difficulty the obtaining of divorces, owing to the rapidly increasing number of applications for judicial separations, it is the practice of Judge Shively, of the Wabash circuit court, to withhold the decree until the attorneys, the court costs and the newspaper bills are all settled. No matter how strong the proof the divorce is not granted till the last dollar of expense is liquidated. As a result the number of irresponsible people applying for divorces is less in Wabash than in other counties, where Wabash applicants, who are impecunious, go to file their suits.

HE IS A LAY LEADER.

JAMES B. HOBBS A PILLAR OF METHODISM.

The Fortune Which He Created as a Member of the Chicago Board of Trade Being Used for Good Purposes.

AMONG the most conspicuous lay leaders of the Methodist Episcopal church in the West is James B. Hobbs, who has just been elected to the coveted position of lay delegate from the Chicago conference to the general conference of the church at large. On the informal ballot his commanding popularity was attested by a vote which gave him but five less than a clear majority over all competitors. Mr. Hobbs is ranked among the leading capitalists of Chicago, and was for thirty years an influential member of the Chicago board of trade. He now holds his original membership ticket in that institution, for which he paid $10. It has been some years since he voluntarily retired from active business on the board and he now divides his time about equally between looking after his large investments and pushing the cause of Methodism in the West. Mr. Hobbs was born in Sebastis, Me., sixty-five years ago. His father died when he was 3 years of age, and for twelve years he was cared for in a precarious way by relatives and friends. By working as a farm hand in summer he contrived to spend a few terms at the Litchfield, Me., institute. In 1850 he learned the masons' trade, went to Chicago in 1855 and soon entered the produce commission business. He served a term as president of the Chicago board of trade and is now president of the Twenty-fourth ward branch of the Civic Federation of that city. In 1888 he was a candidate of the prohibition party for governor of Illinois, and he is now a member of the national central committee of that party. As a member of the national prohibition party executive committee from 1888 to 1892, he exerted a strong influence on the movements of his party. In 1891 he was sent to the ecumenical conference at Washington, D. C., and attended the general conference at Omaha, in 1892, as a member of the committee having in charge the location of the conference. Mr. Hobbs has been a constant and liberal contributor to the cause of Methodism, and donated $25,000 to the erection of the observatory connected with the Northwestern university. In company with his gifted wife he spends a large portion of his time in the service of Methodist interests in Chicago.

BOUTEILHE AND HIS BOMB.

The Young Man Who Committed the Outrage at Rothschilds' Bank.

The man who threw the bomb at M. de Rothschild's bank in the Rue Laffitte, Paris, several weeks ago, is not an anarchist. He is one of those discontented individuals who consider that their talents ought to have raised them to high positions, and who neglect the humbler work they have before them. Marie Andre Victor Leon Bouteilhe—to give the criminal's name in full—is the son of one of the "officers" of the commune. He was educated at a Paris lycee, but he never distinguished himself, and at the age of 18 he enlisted in a regiment of Algerian tirailleurs, with whom he remained five years. On his return he found some employment, and in 1893 he was taken into the service of the Western Railway company and passed into several offices at Courbevoie Saint Cloud and Asnieres. It appears, however, that his conduct was anything but satisfactory, and after several reprimands from his superiors, Bouteilhe left his station. Being thus thrown out of employment and greatly in want of money he went to live at his mother's house in the Rue Montparnasse. Mme. Bouteilhe, who lives with her two daughters, is much respected by her friends and acquaintances, while her daughters are hard working girls, one being employed in a bank, the other in a telephone office. The extravagant talk of Bouteilhe went unheeded by his mother and sisters, and they experienced a great shock on hearing who the perpetrator of the Rue Laffitte outrage was. One of Bouteilhe's favorite topics was the absurdity of the country giving a man an education and then leaving him without employment. The bomb was fabricated by Bouteilhe alone in a thicket in the Bois de Vincennes. The prisoner at first hinted that he had accomplices, and also gave a false account of the composition of the bomb. The three tradesmen of whom he purchased the materials have recognized him, and subsequently Bouteilhe declared that he committed the deed as a protest against the rich, and without any assistance, but he denied that he sent the explosive letter. He was a great admirer of Vaillant and Emile Henry, and sometimes expressed himself in favor of their sort of "propaganda," and of a general strike. He was a conceited fellow, and on one occasion when advised to go into trade, he exclaimed, "Trade disgusts me." Bouteilhe detested work that soiled his hands, and on the same occasion he cried, "Was I made for those jobs?" His ambition was to enter one of the big Parisian stores as a clerk. Bouteilhe was sentenced to three years imprisonment.

Not Half Bad Enough.

"I don't see why I am so neglected," said the habitual criminal, as he looked out between the bars of his cell.

"What's the matter?" asked the defaulter, who was walking up and down the jail corridor.

"No one ever sends me any flowers and no women come around to weep and make much of me," explained the habitual criminal.

"Oh, that's easily explained," said the defaulter.

"How?"

Just as a Favor.

"Will you grant me one little favor?" he asked humbly, as became a man who realized that he was addressing one who knows it all.

"Certainly," replied the other. "What is it?"

"Well, will you kindly permit me to know something about one or two subjects in which I am personally interested if I will concede all the knowledge of everything else to you?"

And after that there was a lull in the conversation that seemed to indicate that permission had been given.—Chicago Post.

Not at Home.

The Buffalo Courier tells this story of two young ladies who are recent graduates of a seminary not named: They were touring in the east this summer and stopped at Salem, Mass., to visit the house formerly occupied by Nathaniel Hawthorne. They rang the bell at the old homestead and awaited a response. Soon a decrepit old lady came to the door and asked the young visitors what they wanted. "Is—ah—Mr. Hawthorne in?" stammeringly asked one.

The report has been revived that the Wabash is to build a link from a point on its Chicago division to Union City, Ind., where connection would be made with the Dayton and Union and the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton for Cincinnati. If built, the road will pass through Portland and Huntington.

When in Louisville, the other day, Col. Samuel Moody, assistant general passenger agent of the Pennsylvania lines, was presented by his friends with an onyx clock and a pair of very expensive vases, accompanied with resolutions thanking him for his efforts to make so much of a success of the G. A. R. encampment at Louisville.

Col. R. G. Thompson, district passenger agent of the Wabash, this morning received notice of six special sales which his company will make of tickets to Atlanta. The dates of sale are October 26, November 5, 15 and 25 and December 5 and 6, good returning ten days after sale. The fare is $16.25 for the round trip. The regular fare is $19.10 one way.

Pennsylvania official, who was with the inspection party, in speaking of contemplated improvements on the Panhandle lines, said it would take $5,000,000 to put the Panhandle in the perfect condition aimed at, which means the doubling of the track of considerable portions of the road. A large per cent. of the mileage between Columbus and Pittsburg is now double track.

Thirty-five Fort Wayne people attended the Catholic church fair at Arcola last evening, the Pennsylvania company making them a special rate on account of their number. They came back on No. 38, which was a half-hour late, reaching home at 11 o'clock. The music at the fair was furnished by Prof. Henry Krull, assisted by the D. & M. Music club, and it was greatly enjoyed by the audience.

Engine 235, class R, was turned out of the Pittsburg shops today and tomorrow the machinists will commence work upon the seventh and last of this class of engines to be built in the Fort Wayne shops this year. There is so much repair work on hand at present, being thirteen engines in the shops, that it will be late in November when another new engine is completed. Tomorrow engines 203, 199 and 902, the latter from the eastern division, will leave the shops, thoroughly repaired.

Interest in football is being revived in shop circles and there will be several good games during the coming season. The Pittsburg shopmen will have a team, as usual, and will commence practicing as soon as A. J. Dawson, the leader, returns from Kentucky. The boys have received and accepted a challenge to play a game on Thanksgiving day with the Lima, Ohio, team, the only question of doubt being the place of meeting. It is hoped that the Lima team will come here, though there is nothing definite to say concerning the matter as yet.

THE DROUGHT A BENEFIT TO RAILWAYS.

While some complaints are heard about the trouble that the drought has occasioned along the lines of some of the railroads, it is, nevertheless, a fact that the dry weather has been of much benefit to all the roads which penetrate the Ohio river territory. No better evidence of this fact is needed than what may be obtained by a visit to some of the railway stations along the river where hundreds of cars of produce and other commodities usually shipped by water are now being loaded on the cars. The Ohio River railroad and the Wheeling division of the Panhandle, Baltimore and Ohio and Cleveland and Pittsburg are at present doing the largest business in their history, and it is mostly due to the fact that not a pound of freight can be shipped by water. At Pittsburg thousands of tons of freight that is usually sent down the river on boats is now hauled to the local freight stations and loaded on the cars.

A NEW DYSPEPSIA CURE.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, the new discovery for stomach troubles, is claimed to have cured over 6,000 people in the state of Michigan alone in 1894. These tablets have become so popular with physicians and people who have any form of indigestion that they have the endorsement of such physicians as Dr. Harlandson and Dr. Jennison as being the safest, most reliable remedy for sour stomach, chronic dyspepsia, gas, bloating, palpitation, headache, constipation, and in all cases where the appetite is poor or the food imperfectly digested.

It is safe to say that Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will cure any kind of stomach trouble except cancer of the stomach. They are not a secret patent medicine but composed of vegetable and fruit essences, pure pepsin, Golden Seal, ginger and the digestive acids. They are pleasant to take, can be carried in the pocket, and they cure because they digest the food promptly before it has time to ferment and poison the blood.

Druggists everywhere sell Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, full sized packages, at 50 Cents. A book on Stomach diseases and thousands of testimonials sent free by addressing The Stuart Co., Marshall, Mich.

Miss Clara Waite will leave Monday for her home in Indianapolis.

A Loud Ring of Your Doorbell in the dead hours of night is alarming. So is the first hollow sound of a cough from one's husband, wife, son, or daughter. It is disease knocking, with perhaps a certain silent visitor waiting not far away. Arrest that cough. Stop it. Stop it at the start. A few days' use of Ely's Pineola Balsam and the danger is past. Relief is immediate; a cure certain. This remedy is rich in the curative principles of the balsams and also contains certain ingredients that are new.

THE NEW COMMANDER.

A Short Biographic Sketch of Gen. Ivan Noble Walker.

Gen. Ivan Noble Walker, who was elected commander-in-chief of the Grand Army of the Republic at the National Encampment in Louisville, is a native of Indiana, having been born in Rush county, Feb. 3, 1839, and he has been a member of the G. A. R. since 1867. At the breaking out of the war Gen. Walker held an important civil office, but he resigned this to devote his services to the cause of the union. He raised a company of volunteers, which was incorporated into the 73d Indiana regiment, under his command. This body was sent to the front at once, and was engaged at Richmond, Perryville, and Stone River, where for gallant conduct Capt. Walker won the rank of major. Soon afterwards, in March, 1863, he was promoted to lieutenant colonel, and at the death of the colonel in May following he was placed in command of the regiment. In a daring raid which he led into the enemy's country Col. Walker was captured and shut up in Libby Prison, from which he escaped, however, through the tunnel made in February, 1864. Returning to his regiment, he rendered important service in the Army of the Cumberland by protecting the line of supplies between Stevenson and Decatur during the advance on Atlanta. For his services at the battle of Nashville he received the personal thanks of Gen. Thomas. After the close of the war, owing to ill health, resulting from his sufferings while confined in Libby Prison, Gen. Walker took up his residence in Nashville, but he returned to Indianapolis in 1871, and has dwelt there ever since. He served as commander of the George A. Thomas Post, G. A. R., on the reorganization of the Department of Indiana, and was appointed assistant adjutant general in 1887. In 1891 he was chosen department commander, and during his four years of service as executive officer the department membership has increased more than six thousand. One of his most notable acts as a member of the veteran organization was his report as chairman of the pension committee to the National Encampment at Indianapolis, which was unanimously endorsed by the Encampment.

Senator Frye's Hobby.

Of all the statesmen who "went into the woods" last summer in search of fishing or shooting, Senator Frye seems to have had the finest camp. It was a five-room log cottage, built midway between two of the Rangeley lakes, with a hospitable, big fireplace as its chief interior ornament. There, with fishing in the morning, entertaining in the afternoon, and whist in the evening, he found life wholly enjoyable. As an evidence of the senator's hospitality, it was no unusual sight to see twenty visitors' canoes moored at the landing near the camp.

MAX NORDAU.

A Few Words About a Notable Character of To-day.

Max Nordau, the author of the much-discussed book, "Degeneration," does not wish to be known as a specialist. In an interview recently he said the reason why he wrote "Degeneration" was that he was sick of always hearing himself spoken of as the author of "The Conventional Lies of Our Civilization." Now that he is being spoken of universally as the author of "Degeneration," he is writing a novel—his third—and will not write the philosophical work which he has in his head until he has disassociated himself from the specialty of philosophical writing. Dr. Nordau lives a very quiet, simple life with his mother and sister, whom he has entirely supported since he was 16 years old. He takes pleasure in nothing but work, and neither drinks, smokes, nor goes out into society. He speaks English, French, Italian, German and Hungarian with equal fluency, and can converse in Russian, Spanish and the Scandinavian languages. He is, moreover, an urbane and amiable man. Nordau is now about 46 years of age. He is of Jewish extraction, and originally studied to be a doctor. His hours of literary work are from 8:30 p. m. till midnight.

MAX NORDAU.

Jack's Idea.

Bobby: "If you fell overboard while on an ocean steamer, what would you do?"

Not So Funny After All.

Two little fellows struck a mine of amusement one day last week and worked it for all it was worth.

It was great fun—for the boys.

Presently an old lady approached the corner. She was fat and looked important. The boys hugged themselves in sheer delight. This time, to prolong the enjoyment, they began:

"Say, missus! 'Scuse us, but you dropped something!"

"Dear me! What? Such nice little boys, I'm sure." And she stooped and picked up a silver quarter lying directly before her and sailed on.—Chicago Times-Herald.

The Hon. J. B. Stoll, in the South Bend Times, pays this compliment to Mr. W. D. Page and his daughter, Miss Josie: "Just at a time when his facile pen was most in demand—during the progress of Fort Wayne's centennial celebration—the accomplished editor of the News of that place, Mr. William D. Page, was taken down with fever, and confined to his bed until it was all over with that marvelously successful affair. This was naturally a great annoyance, a misfortune which only those can properly understand who know something about the perplexities of newspaper life, at such times. But Mr. Page is fortunate in having an advantage over most of his fellows in this, that he has an accomplished daughter, Miss Josie Page, who has made herself thoroughly familiar with the details of a successful newspaper business, and can edit, read proof, and manage affairs generally with a proficiency that atones largely for the enforced absence of even so accomplished a newspaper man as William D. Page. The value of such an adjunct is not to be computed in dollars and cents."

EXCITING RUNAWAY.

There was a runaway on Calhoun street yesterday afternoon that made no end of excitement and threatened to do great damage. The team belonged to a Columbia City lumber man.

Near the corner of Montgomery and Calhoun streets the horses started to run away. They ran into a carriage containing Nickel Plate Conductor Ross and his daughter, Mrs. Frank Farcell, and did it some damage. At Lewis street the driver jumped from the wagon and the team kept on running. They turned west on Jefferson street; took a wheel off Nieman's grocery delivery wagon and stopped when a wheel of their own wagon came off near Webster street. Nobody was hurt, but the wagon and harness were damaged.

We have 30 pairs of these Lace Curtains on hand and just for a run we have reduced the price, and will sell them for $1.75 per pair during the coming week.
